MILITARY RULE IN TEXAS FIELD MAY BOOST OIL

LARGER COMPANIES OBEY EDICT QUICKLY

1,600 Wells Are Affected by Governor's Order; No Resistance Met.

Kilgore, Tex., Aug. 17 (A.P.).—Higher prices for midcontinent crude and possible stabilization of the American petroleum industry were predicted by oil executives tonight as the great east Texas producing area, placed under martial law by Gov. Ross S. Sterling, ceased to gush its demoralizing flood of oil.

Nearly 1,000 Texas National Guard men were on duty in four east Texas counties to enforce Gov. Sterling's order for a complete shutdown of the 1,600 producing oil and gas wells in the area.

No resistance has been met. The larger oil companies closed their wells before the soldiers arrived today to carry out the martial law proclamation issued at 6 a. m.

Leaders of the industry, with few exceptions, hailed Gov. Sterling's action. They expressed the view that with flush fields of Oklahoma already shut down by Gov. W. H. Murray's martial law edict and curtailment measures impending in Kansas, midcontinent crude prices would climb and there was real hope of stabilization.

Stabilization Will Follow.

E. B. Reeser, president of the American Petroleum Institute and head of the Barnsdall Corporation, said at Tulsa:

"The action of Govs. Murray and Sterling will prevent physical destruction of property and will enable the authorities of the States to put into effect proper and orderly proration. The stabilization of the petroleum industry will follow the complete and orderly proration of the east Texas field."

Gov. Sterling, himself an oil man, predicted higher crude prices and estimated the Texas and Oklahoma shutdowns would take about 1,000,000 barrels a day off the market.

He said martial law in east Texas will not be lifted until the State railroad commission has issued proration orders under the new State conservation law and is in a position to enforce such curtailment orders. The commission will be unable to act until after a hearing starting a week from tomorrow.

Gov. Murray, who originated the idea of dealing with overproduction by declaring martial law, sent a message of congratulation to the Texas executive and commented humorously, "He's got about as many soldiers as fought in the whole Mexican war."

Gov. Murray, who is holding out for a price of $1 a barrel in the face of a top now of 52 cents a barrel, said he had heard nothing from oil men concerning an increase.

Leaders Are Cautious.

German Aviatrix Plans Solo Flight to Japan

Berlin, Aug. 17 (A.P.).—Marga Vonetzdorf, German aviatrix, announced today she would hop off from Tempelhof Airport at dawn tomorrow for Moscow on a solo flight to Tokyo via Siberia.

Fraulein Vonetzdorf, whose previous flights included one to Africa, said she would have a handkerchief ready to wave to Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh if she sights the westward flying American vacationists.

Baking Firm President Is Shot While Riding

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 17 (A.P.).—R. Wallace Kolb, president of a baking company bearing his name, was shot and wounded today by an unidentified man who leaped on the running board of Kolb's automobile as he and a woman companion were riding in a suburban section.

He and his companion, Mrs. Margaret Reamy, of New York, said they fled when the man threatened them.

Economic Council For Europe Looms

Pledge by Five Powers to Confer Before Action May Be Proposed.

Paris, Aug. 17 (U.P.).—A proposal for a five-power agreement among European nations pledging themselves to refrain from political or economic action without common consultation was understood tonight to be under consideration by the government.

France, Germany, Great Britain, Italy and Soviet Russia would participate, and it was believed Premier Laval and Foreign Minister Briand might discuss the proposal in the forthcoming visit to Berlin.

Before Laval left for Vichy he discussed the plans for his visit to Berlin with government ministers. It was not expected the trip would be made before the first week in October.

LABOR IRE STIRRED BY SEARS, ROEBUCK

Plan to Use Nonunion Crews in Erection of Houses Here Charged.

Reported plans of Sears, Roebuck & Co. to bring "knocked down" houses into Washington, and set them up exclusively with non-union factory crews, was vigorously protested last night by the Central Labor Union at a meeting in Typographical Temple.

Charles Young, secretary of the Washington Building Trades Council, told the union his organization requested the company to employ union labor on the project and it refused.

He charged Sears, Roebuck is interesting Washington bankers in financing the new program and that it put the proposition up to them at a luncheon August 7 at the Mayflower Hotel, presided over by T. T. Hawksworth, general manager of the Southwestern district construction division of the concern.

The union voted to lay its protest before a luncheon today of the Buy in Washington Council, and to call on the Washington Real Estate Board likewise to support its action.

A resolution indorsing Secretary of Labor Doak's ruling establishing $11 a day as the prevailing wage for painters in Washington, and calling on all labor organizations to follow the example of the painters in protesting wages below the minimum, was unanimously adopted.

The committee appointed to cooperate with the United States Bicentennial Commission announced that the $100,000 memorial to Samuel Gompers, to be erected at Tenth street and Massachusetts avenue northwest, will be dedicated on Labor Day, 1932. A Nation-wide labor celebration is planned by the commission in connection with the event, it was stated.

Leviathan Brings Looted Mail Sack

Mystery Surrounds Theft of English Parcels; Value Slight.

New York, Aug. 17 (A.P.).—With the arrival of the United States liner Leviathan today, postoffice authorities disclosed that a pouch of English registered parcels had been cut open, looted of seven pieces of mail and carefully tied up again. Authorities linked the robbery to a theft several weeks ago of $25,000 in currency en route from Nassau aboard the Mauretania, but said today's theft was of "articles of comparatively insignificant value."

The articles had been transferred from the Munson liner Munarco to the Leviathan at Nassau. Inspector G. H. Clarahan said, and the robbery occurred either on the Munarco or in transit in New York. Thieves would have had little opportunity to operate on the Leviathan, he said. Munson Line officials said they had no knowledge of the robbery.

Policeman Shoots 3 At Quebec Primaries

St. Pascal, Que., Aug. 17 (A.P.).—Three men were shot and wounded by a police officer in a melee after the nomination of candidates for Kamouraska County in the Quebec elections today.

The officer was on traffic duty and a dispute arose during which, he said, he was struck on the jaw by a man and jostled by two others. He drew his revolver and fired three shots.

BRITAIN PLANS CUT IN BUDGET OF 500 MILLION

CROWDS IN LONDON AWAITING DECISION

Wales Cancels Trip Abroad as Financial Crisis Looms in England.

London, Aug. 17 (A.P.).—Prime Minister MacDonald and the cabinet subcommittee on economy met this afternoon and tonight in surroundings reminiscent of wartime days, with the announced purpose of formulating plans by which $500,000,000 can be slashed from the top-heavy British budget.

The meetings were held in the prime minister's official residence. Some time before the afternoon session tiny Downing street, only about half a block long, was thronged with curious and interested onlookers, and police had to clear a way for the cabinet members in front of the residence at No. 10.

It was just like the war days—and some observers remarked that the decisions reached by the ministry during the war were scarcely more important than those which must be arrived at within the next few days.

Crowd Watches in Silence.

There was no noise, no demonstration, no excitement, as the cabinet members walked through the lanes cleared by police. Many of those in the crowd were tourists from the British provinces, with a generous sprinkling of visiting Americans.

When the afternoon session began, the Prime Minister, who arrived this morning from his home in Lossiemouth, Scotland, already had held numerous conferences with ministers, treasury experts and financiers.

After meeting for three hours and ten minutes, the cabinet members recessed for dinner shortly after 7 p. m., and an hour and a half later they were back again in the conference room.

Long Sessions Seen.

Long sessions tomorrow and tomorrow night were in prospect, so that substantial recommendations may be whipped into shape for presentation at the general cabinet meeting Wednesday.

Every London newspaper published what purported to be the government's plans for bridging the financial chasm, but all these accounts were different. Meanwhile, nothing official was given out.

So far as could be learned, there was unanimity among the members of the government. Leaders of the opposition parties also were understood to have assured the Prime Minister that political lines had been wiped out in the emergency, and that they would back the labor government to overcome the threatened financial crisis.

Meanwhile business was generally stagnant, and the stock market was unsettled today as the result of uncertainty about the government's economy plans.

Wales Cancels Trip.

London, Aug. 17 (U.P.). — Great Britain's financial emergency was reported today to have canceled the Prince of Wales' plans for a vacation trip to southern France.

The Daily Express said the prince temporarily canceled his plans because he considered it his duty to remain in England in "a time of national crisis." He had rented a chateau in France and his speedboat and new "zeppelin type" automobile already have been sent there.

The British heir was scheduled to leave by airplane today, but the flight was canceled without explanation except that it was not due to unfavorable weather.

World Court Entrance Is Approved by Labor

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 17 (A.P.). The executive council of the American Federation of Labor, in session here today, approved a proposal that the United States accept membership in the World Court in accordance with the Root formula.

The council also expressed approval of the silk workers' strike in Paterson, N. J., and declared the employers were in violation of the wage-scale-maintenance pledge to President Hoover in 1929 by continued reductions in the wage scale.

SECRET WATERWAYS NEGOTIATION DENIED

(Associated Press).

The administration assured Gov. Roosevelt yesterday that the interests of his State would be protected in Canadian-American negotiations on the St. Lawrence waterway project.

The State Department made public a letter from Acting Secretary Castle replying to an inquiry from the New York chief executive to President Hoover regarding the status of negotiations on the proposed waterway.

The department did not make public the governor's letter, but it was understood he called attention to reports that "secret negotiations" were going on between the Washington and Ottawa governments and asked for information on them. The President turned the governor's letter over to Mr. Castle.

"The President referred to me," Mr. Castle wrote, "your letter concerning negotiations with Canada on the subject of the waterway. All that it is possible to say now is that no negotiations of any kind are going on. It is obvious that when the time comes, the interest of New York State will not be neglected."

The correspondence was handled directly between the President and the acting secretary, whose letter of reply was dated last Thursday.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 17 (A.P.).—Gov. Roosevelt is expected soon to make public a letter written President Hoover and dealing with the proposed water power treaty with Canada, a necessary step to be taken before the State can commence its hydroelectric project at Massena Point on the St. Lawrence River.

Mr. Roosevelt and the power authority chairman, Frank P. Walsh, feel a treaty agreement with Canada will speed up the power project. Mr. Walsh has declared an early settlement of the boundary question likely would mean construction work this fall or winter. The chairman estimated the $171,000,000 State-owned project would provide work for more than 18,000 persons the first year.

Mr. Roosevelt's information that Washington had entered into secret treaty negotiations with Ottawa came from private sources during his visit to Canada at the time of his recent upstate inspection trip, his friends said. The information was said by members of the governor's party to have been unsolicited, and was casually revealed during informal discussions with Canadians.

New Team to Follow Cramer's Trail Today

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 17 (A.P.).—Officials of the Transamerican Airlines Corporation said tonight plans called for a takeoff tomorrow morning on a second survey flight to Copenhagen by the northern route. Final tests were being made tonight, they said.

The plans call for Edwin L. Preston, pilot, and Robert H. Collignon, radio operator, to start off on the same route upon which Parker Cramer, Transamerican pilot and veteran of previous Arctic flights, and Oliver Pacquette, his radio operator, disappeared last week as they approached an isolated portion of the Norwegian coast on their last water hop.

Four Men Die in Chair For Murder of Farmer

Bellefonte, Pa., Aug. 17 (A.P.).—Four men died in the electric chair at Rockview Penitentiary here today for a murder they committed three years ago. A fifth member of the bootlegging gang, convicted of killing Louis Hoffman on his father's Georgia County farm, is serving a life sentence.

The men executed today are Frank Cantilla, Frank Howell, Carl Crow and Joseph Parsi. Just 28 minutes were required to put the four men to death. Cantilla had to be supported as he entered the death chamber.

Berlin Boerse Opening Delayed to October 2

Berlin, Aug. 17 (A.P.).—The Prussian minister of commerce decided today that the boerse will not be opened before October 2. In financial circles the belief prevailed that when the boerse is reopened trading will be restricted at first to bonds and then, if all is quiet, to stocks in restricted amounts.

BANKER GROUP WOULD RENEW BERLIN CREDIT

PLAN CONDITIONED ON OTHERS' ACTION

Renewal of Recently Given $100,000,000 Credit Is Coupled in Report.

Paris, Aug. 17 (A. P.).—The Swiss Telegraphic Agency reported from Basel Switzerland, tonight that the Bank for International Settlements committee investigating Germany's credit needs has adopted a report proposing renewal of a credit of 5,000,000,000 marks (roughly $1,250,000,000) for six months.

The report, prepared by Sir Walter Layton, recommends renewal on condition that the central banks of France and England, the Federal Reserve Bank and the Bank for International Settlements also renew the credit of $100,000,000, which they recently granted for another six months from the date of the signing of the accord—that is to say, from August 18.

The report also is favorable to the opening of further credits to Germany under certain conditions.

Four Texts Prepared.

German, English, French and Italian texts of the report have been drawn up and are scheduled to be signed tomorrow afternoon.

Since the document contains recommendations to the different governments interested, it will be handed after signature to the Bank for International Settlements, which will transmit it to the governments that participated in the London conference in July.

With the adoption of the report the committee, headed by Albert H. Wiggin, of New York, is believed to have finished its task.

The report was finished without an agreement being reached by the committee of representatives of Germany's creditors charged with the task of stopping the withdrawal of capital from Germany.

Representatives Leave Basel.

The question of the extension of credits in marks held abroad against Germany notably remains open. But a conciliatory proposal has been made by which these credits would remain as they are until the middle of November.

Most of the creditors' representatives left Basel tonight. The two German delegates are remaining, however. They plan to telephone Berlin again tomorrow so it is possible an international understanding may be reached at the last moment on the question of mark credits.

Other points in the deliberations have been summed up in the accord which is attached to the Layton report, which is to serve the different banking groups which granted short-term credits to Germany and which is the basis for agreements between the individual groups.

Air Body Drops Probe Of Curious Alien Pair

(Associated Press.)

John F. Victory, secretary of the National Advisory Council for Aeronautics, said yesterday the committee had decided to drop investigation of the case of two foreigners who attempted to join an inspection party to Langley Field, Va., during the National Aeronautic Association convention here.

No foreigners are permitted to visit this experimental station because of exclusive aeronautical features being developed there for governmental use in time of war.

Soviet-Manchuria Break Is Reported

Berlin, Aug. 17 (U.P.).—The newspaper Tageblatt tonight published a radio message purporting to reveal a serious new conflict between Soviet Russia and Manchuria.

The message, said to have been intercepted by a Berlin station, reported that several Soviet citizens had been arrested in Harbin, Manchuria, and were not permitted to communicate with their consul.

The message said that, if the Manchurian government "continues its provocations" the Soviet government "is ready to draw conclusions." The Soviet at one time threatened military action against China and there was severe fighting along the frontier because of China's seizure of the Chinese Eastern Railroad, which runs through Manchuria.

Vienna Hears Bulgaria Will Evict All Greeks

Vienna, Aug. 17 (A.P.).—Dispatches from Sofia today said the government had ordered all Greek nationals to leave the country within 30 days.

The order was regarded as a reprisal against the Greek government, which, it was charged, expelled Bulgarians from Greece without notice despite a special agreement which stipulates that three months' notice should be given.

China's Wheat Offer Sent to Farm Board

(Associated Press.)

The Chinese government yesterday began negotiations looking toward purchase of Farm Board wheat for relief of flood sufferers in the Yangtse River Valley.

Informal inquiry was addressed to the State Department to learn the amount of wheat available on credit terms. No definite proposition was included, however, either as to terms or quantity.

The communication, forwarded here by the American Consulate at Nanking, was sent on to the Farm Board. The board controls more than 200,000,000 bushels of wheat.

Meanwhile, two more rejections of its cotton destruction plan were received by the board. They came from the Governors of Arkansas and Oklahoma, who submitted counterproposals to the suggestion of plowing under every third row of standing cotton as a means of reducing supplies and increasing prices.

At least seven of the fourteen governors have now rejected the plan. Six have offered other proposals to accomplish the same purpose.

In view of Chairman Stone's indication that ten of the largest cotton States must agree, abandonment of the plan nows appears certain.

While the board has had no opportunity to consider the informal inquiry of the Chinese government, Mr. Stone recalled yesterday that he had held informal discussions with Minister Wu before the latter's resignation, in which he outlined terms acceptable to the board for wheat purchases. These took place several months ago.

Stone termed China the greatest potential market in the world for all commodities. He said, however, there

UTILITY BODY TAKES CONTROL OF BUSES

Routes of Interstate Lines Approved by Commission; Strict Rules Issued.

The Public Utilities Commission yesterday assumed actual control of interstate bus operations in the District, when it approved the present routes of all companies which have submitted reports required by the recent bus order.

At the same time the commission set forth stringent rules which are intended to make the motor vehicle carriers adhere closely to their routes and refrain from picking up or unloading passengers save at specified stops.

A temporary concession was granted the Great Eastern Stages and the Mountain Stages, which have previously defied the utilities body in following routes not approved by the commission, when their routes were approved. This was done because of the previously announced plan to force all of the interstate buses out of the congested area next year.

The new order, which must be approved by the joint board of District Commissioners and the Public Utilities Commission, states that no deviation from the present routes is to be permitted any bus company save for fire or street improvement, and then upon direction of the Police Department.

No stops are to be allowed in the first and second traffic zones, other than already named in approved routes, and after September 15 no stops are to be permitted, other than approved, outside of these two zones. Some of the bus companies are said to have been picking up passengers whenever signaled, whether or not at an approved parking space.

Traffic authorities hold that this constant stopping greatly interferes with the movement of other vehicles.

While a half dozen of the interstate bus operators had not filed their schedules and routes with the commission yesterday, though the deadline was Saturday, Harleigh H. Hartman, acting chairman, said that no prosecutions would be demanded until the cause of the tardiness could be ascertained.

NEW BATTLE LOOMS IN CUBAN PROVINCE

Machado Abandons His Plan to Return to Havana; Censorship Is On.

Santa Clara Cuba, Aug. 17 (A.P.).—President Gerardo Machado of Cuba tonight abandoned plans for returning to Havana when indications in this province, the hotbed of the revolution, pointed tonight to the possibility of an imminent conflict between insurgents and loyalists.

The presidential train maintained a full head of steam on the siding here, but the arrival of Senate President Clement Vazquez Bello, like the president a native of Santa Clara Province, lent strength to the apparently authentic information that the president's return would be postponed.

Several brushes between infantry and insurgents occurred over the province today

All roads are carefully watched.

Neither news nor rumor could be had of Col. Roberto Mendez Penate and Col. Aurelio Hevia, two leaders in the uprising who are said to be operating in this section.

Strict censorship was laid down this afternoon. Army officers are inspecting news reports and there was an order that news must be submitted to the chief of staff.

Senator Capper Predicts Wet-Dry Lineup in '32

Alexandria, Minn., Aug. 17 (A.P.). Senator Arthur Capper (Republican), Kansas, in a statement today said he believed public demand would force prohibition into the next presidential campaign as an issue. If it did, he said, "the Republican party can be expected to take the dry side and the Democrats to lean toward the wet."

The senator, vacationing here, said he expected renomination of President Herbert Hoover by the Republicans and naming of Gov. F. D. Roosevelt of New York as Democratic candidate

Mexican Claims Compact On Revolt Losses Expires

By EDWARD T. FOLLIARD.

The special claims convention between the United States and Mexico, under which the two countries arranged to settle claims of Americans and Mexicans growing out of the revolutions in Mexico from November 20, 1910, to May 31, 1920, expired yesterday.

The general convention between the two countries, which provides for a settlement of claims arising from causes other than the revolutions, will expire at midnight, August 30.

With expiration of these conventions, the United States-Mexico Special Claims Commission and the United States-Mexico General Claims Commission pass out of existence. Nominally, they are two separate commissions. Actually, however, they are one, the same commissioners serving in a dual capacity.

Claims that remain to be disposed of total nearly $1,000,000,000, the greater part of which is asked by Americans who suffered as a result of the long succession of revolutions in Mexico in the hectic period between 1910 and 1920.

The Mexicans who have claims against the United States base them for the most part on losses suffered as a result of the American occupation of Vera Cruz and Gen. John J. Pershing's pursuit of the bandit, Villa, into Mexico.

In Mexico City now Reuben Clark, the American Ambassador, is conducting negotiations with the Mexican foreign office, seeking to bring about a renewal of the claims conventions and consequently the creation of another commission to settle the claims.

Information that has come to the State Department, it was learned authoritatively yesterday, is to the effect that the negotiations are proceeding amicably and that there is a good prospect for an agreement.

The conventions under which the claims commission has been func-

Operation Undergone Here By Mrs. La Follette, Sr.

Mrs. Belle Cape La Follette, widow of Senator Robert M. La Follette, sr., and mother of a senator and a governor, successfully underwent an operation for intestinal trouble at Georgetown University Hospital yesterday.

According to her physician, Dr. Wallace M. Yater, both of her famous sons, Senator Robert M. La Follette, jr., and Gov. Philip La Follette of Wisconsin, are coming to Washington at once.

Dr. Yater said Mrs. La Follette's age makes her condition questionable, but added: "We hope she will get over it." The operation was performed by Drs. John Lyons and James Cahill.

Mrs. La Follette is 72 years old. In the old days she "took the stump" for her husband, and has since been one of her family's valued political advisers. She has lived in Washington ever since her son became senator and has followed his work closely. He was married a few months ago, and has passed most of the summer in Wisconsin.

Those close to the family said last night they believed there is no cause for alarm over Mrs. La Follette's condition.

WOMAN SHOT TWICE; ONE WOUND IN NECK

Body of Husband Is Found Upstairs; Two Letters Left by Suicide.

Domestic troubles which had separated a couple, married only a few months, were climaxed last midnight in a suite at the Cavalier Hotel with the shooting of the wife and suicide of the husband.

Police reported that George M. Fusco killed himself by poison after firing two shots into the body of his estranged bride, Mrs. Esther Fusco. The bullets struck her in the neck and wrist. She was taken to Emergency Hospital in undetermined condition. Fusco was 27 years old, his wife is 32.

Mrs. Fusco, the mother of two children by a former marriage, went to the Cavalier about two weeks ago to live with her sister, Mrs. John D. Mothershed, after a dispute with her husband which is said to have ended when he struck her. The quarrel occurred in a taxicab.

Wife Sought Divorce.

Following this incident, the woman instituted divorce proceedings and retained Raymond Neudecker, Capital attorney. The suit was to have come up this morning, it was learned.

Fusco, who was an employe of the Government Printing Office, in the meantime had made several telephone calls in an attempt to effect a reconciliation and have his wife return to their home at 1101 Euclid street northwest. She turned a deaf ear to his pleas and his fatal visit last night is believed to have been undertaken with the view of slaying her and himself if she still refused to come back.

Mr. and Mrs. Mothershed and their two children were asleep when the quarrel began in the living room of the second floor suite.

Neighbor Hears Shots.

Maurice Greenbaum, whose apartment is on the same floor, said that he heard two shots fired and ran into the hall. He saw Fusco emerge from the apartment, withdraw a vial and place it to his lips. Greenbaum knocked it irom Fusco's hands and grappled with him. Fusco broke away and Greenbaum returned to his suite as his wife called. When he went back into the hallway a few moments later, the other man was gone.

Police found Mrs. Fusco lying wounded in the apartment, the gun nearby. A few minutes later her husband was found huddled in the north end of the fifth-floor hall, near a window. He was pronounced dead by Dr. Marjorie Shaw Stewart, a resident of the hotel.

Deputy Coroner Joseph D. Rogers issued a death certificate of attempted murder and suicide.

Mr. and Mrs. Fusco are said to have come to Washington from Brooklyn. Wayne Sidney, who yesterday moved into the engraver's Eu-

Yates Inquiry On; Family Stands By

New Jersey Probes Case of Senator Wounded in Girl's Flat.

New York, Aug. 17 (A.P.).—As New Jersey officials today investigated the official conduct of State Senator Guy T. Yates, shot and seriously wounded last Friday in an apartment here, his wife and daughters publicly expressed their faith in him.

Cheered by the first encouraging news from his hospital bedside, Mrs. Yates said his recovery was "the only matter of concern" to her.

Meanwhile, Ruth Jayne Cranmer, in whose apartment the shooting occurred, was reported by Bellevue Hospital to be recovered from the hysteria and bruises for which she had been treated. When she is discharged tomorrow morning, police will take her to headquarters to appear in the lineup. Later, she will be arraigned on a charge of suspicion of felonious assault.

STEEL MEN OPPOSE HIGHER RAIL RATES

(Associated Press).

The railroad proposal to increase freight rates was called "rank discrimination" in favor of the United States Steel Corporation by F. A. Ogden, of Pittsburgh, in testimony yesterday before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Mr. Ogden, representing the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation, was the first of a group of witnesses opposing rate increases on raw materials used in making steel.

The existing rate on iron ore, he said, gives a "tremendously high return" to the railroads.

"It looks to the layman," he added, "like an absolute out and out tax and is in no sense a matter of reasonable pay for service."

Opposed by Others.

Spokesmen for the Youngstown, Ohio, and Buffalo, N. Y., Chambers of Commerce, the National Paving Brick Manufacturing Association, and the United States Fisheries Association also appeared yesterday in opposition to the increase.

Three hearings on the railroads' plea for a 15 per cent general advance in freight charges were in progress in various sections of the country. Commissioner Joseph B. Eastman opened hearings for the South at Atlanta, and Commissioners E. I. Lewis and William E. Lee at San Francisco. Commissioner Meyer, presiding at the hearing here, was assisted by Commissioner Claude R. Porter, who recently concluded hearings at Portland, Me. Lewis and Lee held hearings at Portland, Oreg., last week.

Witnesses here yesterday reiterated statements made by other shippers last week that the railroads would lose business by increasing rates. Steel companies on the Great Lakes have not appeared at any of the hearings thus far. Ogden said these companies were not protesting because they would not have to pay an increase on water rates, while interior points would have a double increase.

Advantage Is Explained.

This was due, he said, to the fact plants on the lakes get their ore by rail from the mine to the loading point on the lake, thence by water to their plants. Interior plants, he said, must ship by rail to the lakes, thence by water to another lake port and from there by rail to their plants.

Pittsburgh plants, he said, would have to pay 40 cents a ton more for iron ore than Great Lakes if the increase were granted.

He said the railroads' troubles did not result from low rates, but from lack of business. An advance, he claimed, would send more business to trucks and other means of transportation.

J. V. McMahon, of the Youngstown (Ohio) Chamber of Commerce, opposed an increase in rates on any of the raw materials for making steel. He said Youngstown industries already were having trouble meeting competition and an increase in freight rates would aggravate the situation.

Double Charge Is Seen.

F. M. Renshaw, of the Buffalo Chamber of Commerce, said Buffalo industries did not object to the railroads obtaining an increase, but that they did object to the Eastern class rate revisions and a 15 per cent increase both being allowed.

The Eastern class rate revision becomes effective December 3 and it tends, the Interstate Commerce Commission says, to give the railroads more revenue. Renshaw said the dual increase would "create an unreasonably high rate level" and cripple industry in his section.

Renshaw was supported by Charles G. Redlick, representing a Buffalo packing house, and W. G. Clayton, of the Buffalo Bolt Co., who asserted their businesses could not stand an increase and that additional truck use would follow.

Hoover and Hilles Arrive From Camp

Denial Made That They Discussed Coolidge as Candidate.

President Hoover returned to the White House shortly before noon yesterday from his Rapidan camp to resume work on his program for winter unemployment relief. He was accompanied by Charles D. Hilles, Republican national committeeman from New York; Wilbur Forrest, of the New York Herald-Tribune, and Theodore Joslin, one of his secretaries.

Mrs. Hoover returned in mid-afternoon.

Spokesmen for the President ridiculed reports that Mr. Hilles' presence at the Rapidan River camp was to discuss with Hoover the prospects of Calvin Coolidge's running in the presidential race in 1932. Mr. Hilles was a leader in the Coolidge draft movement in 1928.

Nicaraguan Insurgent Is Killed in Skirmish

(Associated Press).

A skirmish on August 13 in which one Nicaraguan insurgent was killed and another wounded was reported to the Navy Department today by Brig. Gen. F. L. Bradman, commander of the Marine brigade in Nicaragua.

The engagement involved a native guardia patrol under Capt. Albert R. Bourne, of Lancaster, Mass., and Lieut. O. C. Ledbetter, of Annapolis, Md., and an insurgent band which it encountered about 25 miles northeast of the town of Jinotega in central Nicaragua.

Estelle Taylor to Counter Suit by Dempsey in Nevada

Actress Plans California Action, Surprised by Reno Proceeding.

Los Angeles, Aug. 17 (U.P.).—Estelle Taylor will file suit for divorce against Jack Dempsey in Los Angeles as a result of his divorce action in Reno, her attorney announced tonight.

The attorney, Joe Scott, said that a property settlement had been arranged and that for this reason he could not understand why Dempsey had decided to cast it aside. Scott said that under the agreement Miss Taylor had waived her right to considerable community property, but that Dempsey apparently was "unable to appreciate our position."

He commented that Dempsey had displayed a good deal of temperament.

From another source it was learned that the actress' suit will be filed tomorrow. California courts have consistently held Nevada divorces illegal for California residents, and Miss Taylor intends to have any Nevada decree granted Dempsey held illegal here.

Reno, Nev., Aug. 17 (A.P.).—Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight boxing champion, filed suit for divorce from his actress wife, Estelle Taylor, here today, ending a romance that began six years ago.

The complaint filed after a complete breakdown of negotiations whereby Miss Taylor sought to have Dempsey buy back from her for $100,000 the house he gave her as a wedding gift, charged mental cruelty, but did not go into detail.

"If I thought there was one chance in the world for Estelle and me to continue together I would never have brought this suit," Dempsey said.

"I am fond of Estelle and I always will like her, but it just couldn't be. She had her life to lead and I had mine. We were too different. I had my work to do. She had hers. There seemed to be no use to try any longer."

Dempsey said he wanted to get the case over with in a hurry—"to get out of here and go to work."

Robert E. Burns, his counsel, was not certain, however, that the case would be settled quickly. He pointed out that Dempsey's complaint was not accompanied by an answer in Miss Taylor's behalf, and that this would mean that trial of the suit would be delayed until such time as she does file one.

Two possibilities were considered—that the actress might bring suit for divorce in Los Angeles, or file an answer and cross complaint in Reno and attempt to win the decree in the local courts.

She has forty days in which to answer Dempsey's complaint. So far as is known she has not engaged an attorney here.

Dempsey will leave Reno probably the latter part of this week for Portland, Oreg., where on August 24 he begins a barnstorming tour that will take him through the Northwest and into the East, boxing four-round exhibition bouts. Reports are that the former champion is making the tour in an effort to recoup a dwindling fortune.

Thus far he has scheduled only eight or ten exhibitions and will be able to return to Reno at almost any time to testify in the divorce case.

HOLY SEE AND ITALY TO DECIDE ON CLUBS

Final Settlement Expected to Begin Next Month; Outlook Bright.

Rome, Aug. 17 (U.P.).—The Holy See and Italy will negotiate a final settlement of their controversy over the Catholic clubs next month.

Ill feeling over the closing of the clubs on charges of political activity has been dying down and the way has been opened for renewal of negotiations with improved chances for success, it was learned today. The controversy, arising from alleged anti-Fascist schemes of the Catholic Action Society, developed into a serious diplomatic problem because of Fascist "insults" to the Pope and differences between the church and state on education of children.

Pope Pius XI will not relinquish his previous demands for an official apology from the Italian government, but conditions are now more favorable to a settlement.

"The Pope is as firm as a rock and will not waver from the stand he believes right," the correspondent was informed as he left the papal apartments after a private audience with the Pope. "There is no doubt that his holiness is in a decided mood.

"Do not allow yourself to be misled by the fact that the clubs are still closed. The Pope will not accept this state of affairs as an accomplished fact, but will continue to demand that they be reopened and be allowed to function, as is his right under the Lateran treaty.

"Governments change, but the Holy See goes on forever and the church can wait until its full rights are acknowledged."

Commission Firm On Car Rerouting

Will Insist Avenue Crossing Is an Impossibility for Virginia Lines.

Despite the announcement of A. K. Shipe, counsel of the Arlington & Fairfax Railway, that a three-day count would be made of passengers on the two Virginia lines to ascertain how many of them had business north of Pennsylvania avenue, the Public Utilities Commission intends to adhere to its original contention that it would be a physical impossibility to route the cars across the avenue at Fourteenth street.

All passengers of both the Mount Vernon, Alexandria & Washington and the Arlington & Fairfax Railways are to be asked to fill out cards soon in a survey to be conducted by the Washington Board of Trade, the Washington Chamber of Commerce, the Alexandria Chamber of Commerce, and other nearby Virginia civic organizations.

The commission bases its opposition to the proposed rerouting on a traffic count which shows that the congestion of street cars at Fourteenth street and Pennsylvania avenue is so great during the rush periods that the Virginia cars could not get across.

WINDS AND FOG HOLD LINDBERGH IN RUSSIA

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and his wife, Anne, dubbed "The Little Blue Goose" by the Eskimo women at Aklavik because of her flying abilities, had hoped to fly the 897 miles tomorrow from Petropavlovsk to Nemuro on Hakkaido Island, 613 miles north of Tokyo. Storms and reports of fog further north deterred them.

Interviews with the fliers in the Russian town, a center for the mining and fishing industries, indicated they were in good spirits and highly enthusiastic over their trip. Thus far they have flown across the North American Continent to the northern tip of Alaska and on down across the ice-cluttered Bering Sea to Siberia.

Throngs Flock to Nemuro.

Meanwhile Japan is excited over the coming visit.

The Lindberghs' first contact with Japanese customs and people, outside of the few officials they have met elsewhere, will be at Nemuro, which tonight was said to have only two untenanted hotel rooms—held for the visitors.

Nemuro is not large, and the inrush of newspapermen, news photographers, officials and the merely curious has taken all the available accommodations.

There were 89 reporters and 27 cameramen there tonight, and more coming. Two newspapers sent chartered airplanes to rush back pictures of the once Lone Eagle and his flying mate. One newspaper, determined to get every word from the lips of the American aviation oracle, sent an American girl stenographer to take a verbatim report of any interviews the Lindberghs give.

Will Be Official Guests.

Hokkaido is noted amoong epicures of the Orient for its chocolate and its cheese. Col. Lindbergh fancies both, so refreshments served the fliers on their arrival will include these specialties.

While at Nemuro the Lindberghs will be guests of the town. The official greeters will include the town headsman, Sekiten Ando, and representatives of the Japanese customs, who will escort the visitors to the newly completed town hall for their formal reception.

Interpreters will be Yoshi Tanaka, of the department of communications, and Capt. Allender Swift, assistant military attache of the American Embassy, both of whom have been sent to Nemuro for that purpose.

Entertainment for the visitors will include some dances of a sort not seen elsewhere in Japan, peculiar to Hokkaido.

Police Seek Lorton Fugitive.

Police are seeking Robert Lawrence, 38-year-old Lorton Reformatory prisoner, who escaped from the District penal institution Sunday. Lawrence, clad in the regulation prison garb when he made the break for freedom, was serving a five-year sentence on grand larceny charges.

Policeman Accused of Drinking.

Private Carroll Zepp, First Precinct policeman, was suspended yesterday after Inspector O. T. Davis reported he found him drunk on the grounds at which the 101 Wild West Show is stranded, where the policeman was on duty. He will be brought before the Trial Board.

TAMMANY PETITION SEEKS UPSTATE QUIZ

Greater Political Rift Seen as Corruption Is Charged in G. O. P. Cities.

New York, Aug. 17 (A.P.).—While Tammany Hall's petition to Gov. Roosevelt for an investigation into alleged corruption in up-State Republican cities was being drafted today, the prospect was seen in some political circles here of a widening rift between Tammany and the man prominently mentioned as possible Democratic presidential candidate.

The demand that the Hofstadter committee broaden its inquiry into the Democratic government of New York City to include such Republican strongholds as Buffalo and Binghamton was being drawn up by Senator John J. Dunnigan, spokesman for the Democratic minority of the committee.

Grave Charges Entered.

With the demand the Democratic senator was sending a long memorandum listing alleged irregularities in various parts of the State, ranging from "a shocking dissipation of public funds" to "collective and and individual thievery" and "the shortage of thousands of dollars collected by justices of the peace."

Most of the towns and cities named in the memorandum are controlled by Republican officials.

He said an investigation of 4,000 justices of the peace had revealed "shortages amounting to many thousands of dollars, representing fines collected and pocketed by the judges themselves." He mentioned in particular cases in Winchester, Rockland and Nassau Counties.

Legislature Meets Next Week.

The Legislature will meet in special session Tuesday of next week at the call of the governor to consider a bill giving the Hofstadter committee power to grant general immunity to witnesses it calls in its New York City inquiry.

Senator Dunnigan's demand will be that at that time the governor seek passage of a bill extending the inquiry into Republican territory.

In some quarters here it was predicted that if Gov. Roosevelt should accede to the demand he would so rouse the ire of Republicans as to hamper legislation of any kind.

The governor has not discussed his attitude toward a Tammany sponsorship of his possible candidacy, and neither former Gov. Alfred E. Smith, accepted national Democratic leader and a power in the New York organization, nor the officers of Tammany as yet have had anything to say regarding the governor's availability.

Seabury Prepares Report.

Samuel Seabury, chief counsel for the Hofstadter committee, today was working in the quiet of his Long Island home on a report to Gov. Roosevelt of his investigation into charges made against District Attorney Thomas C. T. Crain, which demanded Crain's removal from office on grounds of inefficiency.

Meanwhile, it was learned the committee was investigating charges that $1,000,000 worth of garbage trucks put into operation by the New York department of sanitation within the past year had so far deteriorated they now were headed for the junk heap.

Plans and specifications are already being drawn up for $2,000,000 worth of new trucks for the department. Specifications for the 204 trucks now in operation have been subpenaed by George Trosk, one of Seabury's associate counsels.

Also under investigation was the reason why the city is not proceeding more rapidly with its disposal of garbage through incineration and complaints that garbage is being dumped in vacant lots near the Coney Island Hospital.

Two Men Charged In Woman's Death

Second Degree Murder Is Alleged in Case Based on Leap From Car.

Warrants charging second-degree murder were sworn out yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Thomas Garrison, of Prince Georges County, against two young men who are alleged to have pushed Mrs. Ann Noble Sparks from their machine into the path of another auto. The woman, who was 40 years old, received injuries which caused her death in Sibley Hospital Sunday night.

The men charged with the crime are William P. Dermott, 23 years old, of Bowling Green, Va., and Howell R. Boulden, also 23, of 2140 N street northwest. Boulden is now in jail in Washington as a fugitive from justice in Maryland, as the alleged crime happened on the Defense highway near Lanham, Md.

Dermott put up bond in Maryland on charges of attempted criminal assault and robbery. He then went to his home in Virginia. Deputy Garrison said last night that he was being returned to Washington, and would be here by 7 o'clock, but late last night Washington police professed to know nothing of his whereabouts. His bondsman could not be located.

Acting Head of Chile Quits to Run for Job

Santiago, Chile, Aug. 17 (A.P.).—Acting President Juan Estaban Montero of Chile resigned today. He was succeeded by Manuel Trucco, former director general of Chilean railways.

Montero explained he was stepping down in order to carry on his campaign for the presidency as a private citizen. It was expected tonight that the cabinet would submit its combined resignation tomorrow, and that it would not be accepted. The election, to be held October 4, is for the full six-year term.

Alexandria Man Sees Doom for Soviet Test

New York, Aug. 17 (A.P.).—The Soviet experiment was said today by Frank W. Noxon, secretary of the Railway Business Association, to be headed for inevitable failure "because the country lacks a reserve and because Stalin is spending money like a drunken sailor."

Mr. Noxon, who is also president of the Chamber of Commerce of Alexandria, Va., returned today on the liner New Amsterdam with a party that had made an extensive tour of Russia.

Beer at Nickel a Glass Brings Joy to Wisconsin

Madison, Wis., Aug. 17 (U. P.).—Real beer at 5 cents a glass, with free lunch thrown in, brought the Gay Nineties back to Wisconsin today.

Bartenders blamed over-production for forcing the price down to 5 cent a glass, but entered into further competition with sumptuous free lunches. Many saloons advertised "roast chicken," "roast duck," and "fried perch" free to all who would buy pre-prohibition beer at 5 cents a schooner.

Wisconsin has no State prohibition law. Saloons operate openly in most cities and bartenders sell liquor to all comers, taking a chance on serving an occasional Federal prohibition agent by mistake.

FARM BOARD HANDED CHINA'S WHEAT PLAN

Business Basis Is Proposed in Purchase for Aid in Yangtze Valley.

State Department officials described the Chinese suggestion as having been on a "business basis," contemplating buying the undetermined quantity of wheat on credit.

Sales Limit Is Agreed.

The Grain Stabilization Corporation has sold several million bushels in the Orient since spring.

The Farm Board, in answer to demands from the Midwestern grain regions, agreed to limit sales of stabilization wheat this year to 60,000,000 bushels unless an unforeseen emergency arises in some foreign country.

It said it was willing to deal with any responsible government on reasonable credit basis. A reported German offer to buy 600,000 tons of wheat has failed to materialize. The board rejected a German offer for purchase of 600,000 bales of cotton because the terms were not satisfactory.

Far West and Far South Have Surplus Solutions

Walla Walla, Wash., Aug. 17 (A.P.). A plan calling for substitution of wheat now held by the Federal Farm Board for the prospective 1932 crop in an effort to increase the price of the grain and absorb the surplus was sent today to the Farm Board from a group of Washington and Oregon growers who met here last week.

The farmers suggested that they buy from the Farm Board the amount of grain which they probably would raise if their lands were cultivated and allow their fields to remain idle.

The wheat purchased would be the surplus held by the board, and paid for with notes, which would be redeemed whenever the farmers sold the grain.

Under the plan the board would not dispose of its warehouse receipts, held as collateral, before July 1, 1932, and then at a price not less than the world price plus the 42 cents a bushel tariff.

Army Cement Purchase In Europe to Be Probed

(United Press.)

Officials of the Portland Cement Association said yesterday they intend to investigate reports that the Army is purchasing cement for Panama Canal Zone purposes in Europe.

Reports received by the association are to the effect that some 50,000 barrels of cement have been purchased in European markets for construction of the Albrock Field airport and the Balboa Army post.

A law passed at the last session of Congress provided that War Department appropriations must be expended in making purchases of United States goods unless the price is unreasonable. This law became effective July 1.

Postoffice Opens Bids On 3 Ocean Mail Lines

The Postoffice Department yesterday opened bids on three new ocean mail routes to start October 1, running between New York and Baltimore to Rotterdam and Antwerp; Mobile and other gulf ports to English, Irish, Belgian and German ports, and Seattle, Wash., to Colombia, Jamaica and Mexico.

Steamship companies making bids for the routes included the American Diamond Lines, Inc., the Waterman Steamship Corporation, of Mobile; the Gulf Pacific Mail Lines, Ltd., of San Francisco, and the Luckenback Steamship Co., of New York. The Postoffice Department took the bids under advisement.

Jewish-Arab Outbreak In Palestine Threatened

Jerusalem, Aug. 17 (U.P.).—Recent threats of another outbreak of trouble between Jews and Arabs in Palestine increased today when the Arab executive council called a general strike for Sunday. The strike will be in protest against the government's action in placing sealed armories in various Jewish colonies as a means of self-protection in case of future disorders.

The council also decided not to appoint an Arab adviser to the development commission, which will dispose of a $12,500,000 British loan for economic development of Palestine.

3 GOVERNORS BALK AT LONG PROPOSAL

Louisianan, However, Says Plan to Omit 1932 Crop Has Heavy Support.

New Orleans, Aug. 17 (A.P.).—Although three governors of Southern States today turned down Gov. Huey P. Long's proposal for the farmers to raise no cotton next year as a price stabilizer, Gov. Long at Baton Rouge tonight reported that his plan was assured of "overwhelming" support.

The Louisiana chief executive is asking governors, lieutenant governors, representatives and senators from the cotton-growing States to meet in New Orleans Friday to discuss his plan to ask the several Legislatures to rule out cotton next year and regulate production. Tonight, he said, he had nearly 100 telegrams, in general favoring the move.

The endorsements, he said, came from officials, brokers, organizations and people in all walks of life over the country.

Among those who endorsed the movement were Gov. Blackwood of South Carolina, Senator Fletcher of Florida, and Senator Broussard, of Louisiana.

Govs. Bilbo of Mississippi, Horton of Tennessee and Miller of Alabama, described the proposal as unworkable and unfair to the farmer.

Gov. Long's plan was endorsed today at farmers' mass meetings in Greenville, Ga., and Shreveport, La. Representatives of Shreveport banks also telegraphed the Cotton States governors, urging them to attend the meeting here Friday.

Oklahoma City, Aug. 17 (A.P.).—Gov. Murray, in a telegram to James C. Stone, Federal Farm Board head, today recommended Government destruction of all immature cotton placed on the market this year to improve prices and to prevent waste.

The telegram said:

"The proposition of plowing up every third row of cotton is not possible in Oklahoma, because it violates the Constitution in that it is a destruction of private property without due process of law and without compensation.

"My suggestion would be, in view of the small demand for bollies and immature cotton, for the Government to destroy all such cotton now on hand and to discourage the picking and ginning of it this fall.

"This may be accomplished by refusing to make any advance on such cotton by the Farm Board or other agencies needing cotton and through the gins of the country. The world demands a high grade of cotton.

"There is a surplus of bollies and inferior grade. Whatever other practical plan that should be adopted should, in my opinion, include also the destruction of these inferior grades. I shall cooperate gladly in any and all methods that are at all practical."

Columbia, S. C., Aug. 17 (A.P.).—An act by Congress to regulate the cotton acreage in 1932 was proposed today by Representative Hampton P. Fulmer, Democrat, of the Seventh South Carolina District, as one means of raising the price of cotton.

In a letter addressed to the Federal Farm Board, Representative Fulmer suggested that, as an immediate step toward relief of the cotton grower, the board take over the present crop and sign up farmers not to plant any cotton in 1932.

Suit at Rockville Asks Easement for Gas Line

Suit for condemnation of land owned by Thomas M. Anderson, Rockville lawyer, his wife, Mrs. Berthy G. Anderson, and his mother, Mrs. Julia P. Anderson, was filed yesterday in Circuit Court at Rockville, Md., by the Maryland Gas Transmission Corporation.

The petition states that gas lines were constructed under a deed from the defendants which specified that the pipe must be below cultivation level, but that certain portions of the land are needed for equipment. The company declares it is unable to agree on a price for easement with the owners.

The wounded woman's children are in Durham, N. C. They are Francis, 12, and Peter, 9.

His attempts to make a happy home for his wife were frustrated, Fusco wrote in a note addressed to his mother, Mrs. Frances Fusco, of Brooklyn. That the letter was not one of farewell was indicated by a sentence which said he would write to her later.

"Dear mother," the letter began. "I am sorry I ever left. Especially coming to Washington to take this Government job. I should have written for advice more often * * * She must forgive me (referring to a former sweetheart) for leaving."

Another note found on the body was addressed: "To whom it may concern." It, also, told of his unhappy married life.

Pangborn and Herndon Each Pay $1,000 Fines

Tokyo (Tuesday), Aug. 18 (U.P.).—Clyde Pangborn and Hugh Herndon, jr., American around-the-world fliers, paid fines of approximately $1,000 each here today for taking pictures of Japanese forts near Hakodate. They appeared before authorities at 10:30 a. m. with the money.

Pangborn and Herndon were prosecuted for alleged violation of the law while on a flight here from Khabarovsk Siberia. They crossed the Atlantic Ocean three weeks ago, and now plan to try a nonstop flight across the Pacific from Japan to the United States.

Cuban Insurrectos Fail To Study U. S. Banditti

By JOHN J. DALY

Principals in the revolt are in the Fortress of Cabana, and President Machado is in Santa Clara rounding up the stragglers.

They make much ado over these revolutions in Cuba. Up here in America, where gunplay and bombing are every-day affairs, everything is taken as a matter of course.

On Sunday, while the Cuban revolution was dying, an apartment house in New York was surrounded by 175 policemen, armed with machine guns and trench mortars. Six men and two girls of the banditti gave battle that lasted 40 minutes. Churchgoers, prayer books in their hands, paused for a moment, then continued to divine service. Just a bunch of the boys and girls whooping it up, like Two-Gun Crowley and his cohorts before them.

Down in Cuba this would have been considered everybody's fight. The Cuban forces were distinctly drawn. The battle was between Machado and insurrectos led by a former president, trying to unseat the president.

* * * *

TO stage the same sort of show in America, to dignify it with the term revolution, Calvin Coolidge, no less, would have to leave his quiet home in the hills of Northampton and lead the forces of law and order against the Hoover government.

Imagine that cavalcade marching to Washington. They would probably get no farther than New York. There the "Gus" Schultz gang would pick off the leaders. Or if they took a round-about journey, going first to the Catskills and then doubling back by train over Hellgate Bridge, the "Legs" Diamond gang would give them battle.

Not that the gangsters are utterly opposed to revolution, but they prefer their own wars. What they fear is that some one will steal the front page from them.

No former President will ever be able to drum up a corporal's guard in this country to march upon the White House or the Capitol. Everything is jake for democracy.

* * * *

THE Cubans have not enjoyed their liberty long enough. They are not quick enough on the draw. At large only since 1902, they will learn with time. America has been active in the field some 150 years. Give the Cubans a chance. They will come through, some day, with spectacles just as splendid as the scenes enacted morning, noon, and night in Chicago and other American cities.

Of course, the Cubans are handicapped by the size of their country. The entire area is less than that of Illinois. True, that does not offset the fact that one good Chicago machine gunner could, if called upon, wipe out the entire Cuban revolutionary forces—provided, of course, that he was not fighting equally gifted bandits.

There's not the slightest chance that Cuba, or any other country given to revolution, will steal the ballistic honors from America, even though a lot of South American republics look enviously at these States. America has reached a point of perfection which required years to attain.

Each State vies with every other State in trying to hold the lead. So, it is scarcely worthy of notice when the Governor of Texas orders the Rangers out to shoot up the oil fields, or when Alfalfa Bill calls out the militia. These are mere skirmishes, as natural as night following day, no clarion call of the trumpet, no war correspondents following the armies.

Instead of getting excited about home conditions, the American takes more interest in the Cuban and other foreign revolutions. After supper he goes out on his front porch, lights up his pipe, and calmly awaits the bomb that is to blow up his back porch.

One Holdup Man Dies In Gas Station Battle

Danville, Ky., Aug. 17 (A.P.).—Accosted by three holdup men shortly after he closed his gasoline filling station here last night, Joe Elliott, 50, killed one of them and wounded another, but lost one of his own thumbs and suffered a flesh wound in the back.

The dead man was identified as J. D. Shouse, 25-year-old Boyle County farmer. Elliott said he fired two shots into a second member of the holdup party, but that he escaped. The third man fled when the shooting started.

Westbound night flying will be between Iowa City and Salt Lake City, and eastbound between oRck Springs, Wyoming, and Iowa City.

JAHNCKE ADVOCATES LESS WORK, NO CUTS

Shorter Hours at Same Pay Slump Solution Given at Legion Parley.

Chippewe Falls, Wis., Aug. 17 (A.P.). Relieving unemployment by shortening the working day and week and maintaining present wage scales was advocated tonight by Assistant Secretary Jahncke, of the Navy Department.

Addressing the Wisconsin State American Legion convention, Jahncke denounced the dole and attacked "political demagogues" whose proposals, he said, have a tendency toward Marxian Socialism.

The problem of combatting the depression, he said, "goes deeper than such evasive proposals as doles and public or private charity. The problem must be attacked at its root—and that root is the question how to control increasingly efficient mechanized production.

Machine Control Needed.

"Obviously, we can not abandon, if we would, the use of more efficient machinery. But one alternative remains, and that is to supply employment by the reducing of hours of labor and shortening of the working week, while maintaining the present high standard of wages.

"We have created for ourselves an enormous giant—the machine—now we must learn to control it.

"Although today there are millions of unemployed, and the winter ahead will without question be one of hardship in many sections, nevertheless I believe that we star' now on the threshhold of a new dawn of prosperity * * *"

"Progressives" Are Scored.

Jahncke urged "loyal support" of the President whom he termed "the commander in chief of the forces that are fighting this depression."

"The Marxian concept of a society in which each member is rewarded alike without regard to proportional effort, energy and talent, where individual initiative is outlawed, is the apparent ultimate aim of many of our political leaders today," he continued.

"I object particularly to their use of the word 'progressive' to describe themselves. * * * as they would have Government assume one by one the functions of private enterprise, they would stifle individual initiative."

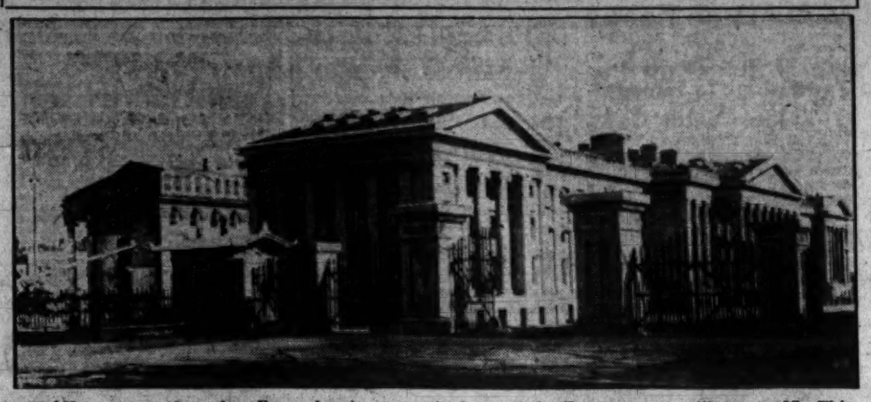
When Washington Was Younger—No. 17



CAN you remember when Pennsylvania avenue in front of the Treasury was still unpaved? This photograph of the Treasury was made then. Fifteenth street is in the background. The gates in the foreground mark where East Executive avenue now is. The record is blank on what the little booth in the foreground was, but it probably was used by the police or by Treasury guards.

GANDHI SOLICITS AID OF FORMER VICEROY

Asks Lord Irwin to Seek an End of Dispute, Letting Him Go to London.

Allahabad, India, Aug. 17 (U.P.).—An effort to persuade Lord Irwin, former viceroy of India, to intercede with Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald in an effort to solve Nationalist differences with the government, was reported today.

The Mahatma Gandhi and Pundit Malaviya were understood to have sent a cable to Lord Irwin urging him to attempt settlement of the dispute and thus make it possible for Gandhi to go to London for the September round table conference on a new Indian constitution.

There was no confirmation of reports arising in Bombay that the recent civil disobedience campaign would be revived as a result of the controversy, although it was believed some of the more radical Nationalists might have attempted such action.

Gandhi's dispute with the government arose out of the refusal of Lord Willingdon, the viceroy, to order an investigation of charges that the British had violated the Delhi pact, which ended the civil disobedience campaign against British rule. A willingness to compromise has been expressed by the Nationalists, but there has been no indication that the government would attempt to settle the dispute, despite the fact that all factions are anxious for the Nationalists to attend the conference. If Gandhi does not attend, there are grave fears that it will not be successful.

Christian Science Book Inspection Right Given

New York, Aug. 17. (A.P.).—The right to inspect books and records regarding the property of the Fifth Church of Christ Scientist, was granted by a court today to Flora M. Koch, a trustee, who accused church officers of refusing to exhibit the books when she attempted to investigate rumors that church members made secret profits totaling $400,000 when the church was erected.

Mrs. Koch was ousted as a trustee in October, 1930, but an appellate court declared the ouster illegal. Supreme Court Justice Edward S. Dore in a decision today said he was bound by the appellate division's decision to regard her as a trustee.

The GIRL About Town

SURG. GEN. HUGH CUMMING must have regarded that trip to Rapidan as a birthday present, for he was 61 years old yesterday. When I met him, after the return of the presidential party, he was gay in a new birthday tie, and laughed and pointed it out when I wished him many happy returns of the day. But he did not get the Children's Bureau annexed to the Public Health Service. That's what he wants before another birthday rolls around.

Saw pretty Dorothy Nicholson in church Sunday. She is the daughter of Mrs. Jessie W. Nicholson, who sees red at the mention of a wet. Dorothy is to be an assistant hostess at the Mount Vernon exhibit in Paris. Bascom Slemp knows on which side the political bread is buttered. That one appointment will do much to keep the ultra drys lined up.

Speaking of political sagacity, how about Jim Davis, Mrs. Davis, and the five little Js? Did you notice the picture of them raking hay on the Pennsylvania farm, which is helping Jim to get the farmer vote lined up for his reelection? No fashionable Ventnor for the Davises this year. Yes, it is a good thing to make hay while the sun shines.

That Pennsylvania trio of Congressional Warwicks, Mrs. Jim Davis, Mrs. Clyde Kelly and Mrs. Adam Wyant, could elect anybody to Congress. Those friendly sisters know all there is to know about vote-gathering. I'd like to see them in Congress themselves. What's the matter with the Pennsylvania districts, that they do not send the better halves of marital teams to Capitol Hill?

Doris is already back, but Alice is lingering overseas, seeing some of her old cronies of the hunger strike in England. Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont continues to be the good fairy or "angel" of the organization, and bought the new home for them after they were ousted from their watch tower on Capitol Hill.

Cynthia is in Newport. She telephoned me yesterday all about the Red and White Ball Saturday. It was a glorious sight. Maxim Karolik, who entertained at supper with Madame Karolik, had to be forcibly restrained from joining in the choruses with the radio stars who furnished the program. I think it was a waste of good charity money not to let Maxim sing and so dispense with the stars. Nobody heard them, anyway, there was so much conversation.

Well, the Colonel will go down in history as the greatest "Mutual Friend" who ever scrambled up European politics.

Officer Saves Baby When Mother Dies

Capital Lieutenant Rescues Child in New Hampshire Fire; Father Burned.

Special to the Washington Post.

Deerfield, N. H., Aug. 17.—Mrs. Edward H. Abercrombe, 41, was burned to death and her husband was severely burned when fire broke out in their home here today. Their eight-month-old child was rescued by Lieut. L. W. Lystad, of the War College at Washington, D. C., who, passing in a car, heard the cries for help.

Lieut. Lystad found Abercrombie trying to extinguish the flames that had enveloped his wife's clothing. Mrs. Abercrombie was dead before the fire department arrived, and an ambulance took her husband to the Franklin County Hospital, in Greenfield.

Officials were unable to explain the cause of the fire. The house is equipped for electricity, but three oil lamps, used mostly when electricity fails, had exploded. The fire got in the partitions but was extinguished with slight damage, although smoke had filled the house when Lieut Lysted rushed in.

Abercrombie will be questioned in the hospital as soon as his condition permits.

Year's First Hurricane Passes Near Mexico

The first hurricane of the year, blowing its way from the Caribbean Sea westward, was reported yesterday to be about 60 miles north of the little Mexican town of Frontera on the Gulf of Mexico.

A second hurricane, central between Porto Rico and St. Croix in the Virgin Islands, was reported by the Weather Bureau to be of "small diameter, probably moderate intensity." It was said to be moving northwestward.

OIL PRICE GAIN SEEN UNDER MARTIAL LAW

down undoubtedly would serve to stabilize the industry. R. M. Young, of the Carter Oil Co., subsidiary of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, declared it was too early to venture a prediction. Homer F. Wilcox, another leader, sounded a note of caution, saying the good effect might be only temporary.

The Sinclair Oil & Gas Co. today posted a price of 25 cents a barrel for east Texas crude, meeting the advance announced last week by the Magnolia Petroleum Co. Crude prices in Pennsylvania also were increased today, partly in response to the mid-continent shutdown.

Various officials estimated that 10,000 workers in the east Texas area would be affected.

W. L. Todd, chairman of the East Texas oil emergency committee, said that all the major companies planned to care for their employes during the emergency. In most instances, he said, the workers would be kept on pay rolls to keep company organizations intact and in almost every case arrangements had been made to feed and house them.

Mayor Malcolm Crim, of Kilgore declared martial law was a necessity, even though it would place the oil field workers in a grave position. He feared that thousands might face privation.

Producers Closing Down.

The entire section remained quiet, except for the bustle and confusion created by the Army moving into camps.

Brig. Gen. Jacob F. Wolters, in command of the troops, said his reports indicated all producers were closing down voluntarily. Anyone who resisted, he said, would be jailed until martial law is lifted.

Some operators, under contract to supply crude oil, insisted on written shutdown orders. Their requests were granted.

The chairman of the East Texas oil emergency committee said oil in storage likely will not be drawn upon.

"Most of the oil in storage cost $1 per barrel, or more, and it would be foolish to take it out when the price of crude oil is under that," Mr. Todd explained. "Of course, if we waited for storage oil to be exhausted before getting an increase in price, we might have to wait two or three years."

Low Price Laid to Monopoly.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Aug. 17 (A.P.).—Monopoly and not competition is responsible for the low price of crude oil from the Salt Creek field in Wyoming, acting Gov. A. M. Clark said in a letter mailed to President Hoover, made public today.

The communication was the third to be exchanged between Gov. Clark, President Hoover and the Department of the Interior, on the oil situation in Wyoming.

Gov. Clark said he believed oil companies operating in the field on Federal land had violated their royalty contracts and Federal leases and that the President should declare present prices "unreasonably low" and stop production. The oil is now selling for 38 cents a barrel.

Informal Permit Granted Laundry

Mt. Rainier Council Balks at Changing 8 o'Clock Rule Officially.

The Mount Rainer Town Council last night agreed to allow the Northeast Laundry to continue to operate at night as long as it did not become a nuisance, but declined to change the local ordinance forbidding any industry to keep open after 8 o'clock.

Robert E. Funkhouser, an officer of the laundry company, had asked that the town give him a permit to continue operations after this hour. The town authorities felt, however, that the permit might invalidate the law, so gave the permission informally. Mr. Funkhouser's application was accompanied by statements from neighbors that they did not object to the operation of the plant.

Action on two proposed ordinances was postponed until the next meeting, which will be held shortly after Labor Day. The proposed laws relate to the muzzling of dogs and the abolition of the fee system in the enforcing of the town's regulations.

Stating that the mortgage on the home of Francis Draley, of Mount Rainier, was being foreclosed solely because Mr. Draley, a town policeman, was ten months in arrears on his interest payments, Mr. Funkhouser last night denied that he had any personal animus against Mr. Draley, who, in his official capacity, had forced Mr. Funkhouser to shut down his laundry every night at 8 o'clock.

TOLEDO PLANS HELP AFTER BANKS CLOSE

Merchants Propose Loans to Small Depositors Out of Employment.

Toledo, Ohio, Aug. 17 (A.P.).—Industrial and financial leaders moved rapidly tonight to aid depositors after four large Toledo banks and one small one had closed in the last 24 hours.

The last bank to shut its doors was the Point Place State, which opened December 1, 1929, with $25,000 capital, $5,000 surplus and about $80,000 in deposits.

To minimize hardship among an estimated 150,000 depositors affected by the closing of the five institutions, members of the Merchants and Manufacturers Association of Toledo decided that they would aid their unemployed workers with small loans whenever necessary.

Money Rushed to Banks.

Several large truckloads of money were rushed here from the Federal Reserve Bank at Cleveland to aid the banks remaining open. To take care of an increased amount of withdrawals the Toledo Trust Co. opened an hour early and closed at 4:40 p. m. none of the banks reported any hardship by remaining open.

The Point Place Bank directors reported late this afternoon that they were closing for the protection of their depositors, and that it could collect on its loans, practically all of which were made after the period of inflation.

The downtown section was crowded all day by depositors and the merely curious, who read the closing notices posted on the doors of the Commerce Guardian Trust & Savings Bank, the Ohio Savings Bank & Trust Co., the Commercial Savings Bank & Trust Co. and the American Bank.

$100,000,000 Involved.

The four banks have combined resources of $100,000,000 and deposits of around $80,000,000. Their closing today came at the expiration of the 60-day withdrawal notice which they posted when the Security-Home Trust Co. closed two months ago.

The closing notices were accompanied by an announcement that the banks were believed solvent, but the action was taken to protect depositors. Officials of the American Bank said it could have met normal conditions, but its reserves were tied up with two of the closed banks.

The First National Bank, the Toledo Trust Co., the Spitzerrorick Trust & Savings Bank and the West Toledo National remained open as usual, as were the Morris Plan and Industrial banks, two special plan banks.

Withdrawals Are Stopped.

Akron, O., Aug. 17 (A.P.).—Twelve Building & Loan Associations of Akron and Cuyahoga Falls today served their depositors with notice of temporary suspension of withdrawals. The companies involved carry deposits of $26,000,000. A. E. Albright, secretary of the largest, today said "the step is taken for the purpose of protecting the depositors. There is no question of insolvency and the suspension of payments is merely temporary."

Cleveland, Aug. 17 (A.P.).—H. V. Shulters, president of the Cleveland Clearing House Association, today said the closing of four Toledo banks would have no effect on Cleveland banks in the association. He said that all banks in the Cleveland association, representing most of the city's largest institutions, were in "A-1" shape.

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 17 (A.P.).—Six Nebraska State banks failed to open for business today. Gov. Charles W. Bryan and E. H. Lutkart, secretary of the State department of trade and commerce, said the closings were the result of recent bank suspensions in Omaha.

The six banks had total deposits of approximately $1,180,000. They were the First State Bank of Pleasant Dale; the Dwight State Bank of Dwight, the Brainard State Bank of Brainard; the Bruno State Bank of Bruno; the Butler County Bank of Bavis City, and the Leigh State Bank of Leigh.

Harrison Presses For Tariff Debate

Wires Dickinson He'll Be Glad to Arrange Place; Wants Open Forum.

Gulfport, Miss., Aug. 17 (A.P.).—In reply to published reports that Senator Dickinson (Republican), of Iowa, had accepted Senator Pat Harrison's challenge for a joint debate on the Smoot-Hawley tariff law, Senator Harrison today suggested an open forum debate.

"I have telegraphed today to Senator Dickinson," the Mississippian said, "and have sent a copy of the telegram to the Republican national committee, that I would be very glad to agree upon places and time for one or three debates and that we could leave details up to respective party organizations."

The only condition Senator Harrison has imposed is that the debate shall be in open forum and "not over the radio with each speaking from different platforms, as has been suggested, but said he hoped broadcasting organizations would broadcast the debates. He said Sioux City, in the home State of Senator Dickinson, has been active in trying to have one of the debates held there and that that selection would be agreeable to him.

Firemen's Parade Plans Discussed

Board of Trade Group Has Dinner Meeting at Country Club.

Plans for the annual Labor Day firemen's parade in Washington were advanced last night when the public order committee of the Washington Board of Trade held a dinner meeting at the Washington Golf and Country Club, with Odell Smith, the chairman, presiding. Assurance was given that there would be ample standing room for those watching the parade.

Among the speakers at the dinner, all of whom praised policemen and firemen in their addresses, were Maj. D. A. Davidson, Julius A. Rodier, Ernest D. Danley, Col. William C. Rigly, Judge Walter T. McCarthy and John Petty. The last two speakers, residents of Arlington County, urged closer cooperation with the people of northern Virginia, as their interests, they said, are in common with those of the District.

ROSENWALD LAWYER DERIDES SMITH NOTE

Stock Offer Charge 'Stale,' He Says; Ill Philanthropist Unaware of It.

Chicago, Aug. 17 (A.P.).—Julius Rosenwald's attorney today characterized as "a stale afterthought" Frank L. Smith's charges in an open letter that Rosenwald had offered him 10,000 shares of Sears-Roebuck stock as an inducement to abandon his campaign for the United States Senate in 1926.

"The community knows Mr. Rosenwald; it also knows Frank Smith," the attorney, Leo F. Wormser, said.

The attorney said the letter, addressed to Prof. Carroll F. Wooddy, of the University of Chicago, as a suggested additional chapter to a book written by Prof. Wooddy about the 1926 senatorial campaign was "relatively inconsequential," and, coming five years after the alleged incident took place, "a stale afterthought."

From Rosenwald himself no statement was forthcoming because his family, feared the controversy might adversely affect his health, kept him ignorant of Smith's charges. He has been under care of a doctor for several months at his summer home in suburban Ravinia, mostly confined to bed.

"His physicians have issued strict orders that all controversial matters should be withheld from his (Rosenwald's) attention," the philanthropist's son, Lessing Rosenwald, said.

Smith, head of the Illinois Commerce Commision in 1926, was the successful Republican candidate for the Senate, but was refused his seat after a senatorial committee reported that its investigation disclosed that his campaign had been financed largely by allegedly excessive donations by public utilities heads, especially Samuel Insull, Chicago power magnate.

Prior to its refusal to allow him a seat, the Senate had rejected him as an appointee by Gov. Len Small to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator William McKinley.

Bliss Fights U. S. On Condemnation

Dismissal of Suit Asked to Avoid Tangle Over Land Near Capitol.

The Bliss Properties, Inc., owners of a large tract of land south of the Capitol, yesterday brought suit in the District Supreme Court to dismiss the condemnation proceedings the Government has instituted to acquire 78 parcels of land owned by the corporation.

Through William C. Sullivan, attorney, the owners claim that the Government is seeking to condemn their property along with that of numerous other owners, and that a tangle is certain to result. The court was told that the Bliss company had no objection to a separate jury being impanelled to value the Bliss' properties and place a fair price on them.

The claim is also made that bringing the great number of property owners into one suit constitutes a misjoinder, and for that reason is not to be tolerated by the courts. The property under litigation is the Driscoll Hotel, the old Census Office, and many other valuable tracts in that vicinity. It is desired by the Government to enlarge the Capitol grounds and also to provide space for other Government buildings.

High School Urged For Takoma Park

Mayor and Council Back Proposal for Senior Institution.

Support of the proposed erection of a senior high school in Takoma Park in 1933 was voiced last night in a resolution adopted by the mayor and council of Takoma Park, Md. The movement for a Takoma Park High School was launched two weeks ago by Maj. E. Brooke Lee, at a meeting of the general school committee for the Takoma-Silver Spring-Woodside area.

At the school committee meeting, it was voted to recommend that a senior high school be erected in the Silver Spring area this year in accordance with the plans of the county officials and that land be purchased this year for the Takoma Park site with erection of the building as soon as possible after the State assembly meets in 1933.

The town council indorsed the movement and urged the citizens of the town to maintain a united front on behalf of the proposed improvement.

NEW BATTLE LOOMS IN CUBAN PROVINCE

nine members of their staff, imprisoned in Cabana Fortress, has not yet been decided, it was authoritatively said.

The president declined to say how many troops were operating in Santa Clara, but remarked they "would be disposed through the province as was necessary."

A statement issued earlier in the day by the military aid to Machado said the "pacification of the uprising has been complete and highly satisfactory, on account of the efficiency of the army, navy and friends of the government, working in cooperation."

"Workingmen of all classes as well as the moneyed people of the island protested this revolution, and this protest was the big factor in its conclusion," the statement said.

The president declared the entire nation to be "indifferent to the revolution despite reports that the New York revolutionary junta intended to continue direction of the rebellion following the capture of Menocal and Mendieta."

New York, Aug. 17 (A.P.).—Dr. Ferdinando Ortiz, a spokesman for the Cuban revolutionists, tonight declared the Machado government had not quelled the anti-federal uprising. He said Machado was "afraid" to execute the prisoners for fear the president himself soon might be an ordinary citizen.

NEWSPAPER WRITER SHOT IN STRIKE ZONE

Wound Is Held Not Serious; Murder Trials Planned; Workers Return.

Harlan, Ky., Aug. 17 (A.P.).—Boris Israel, 21, correspondent for the Federated Press, was shot in the left leg near here late today and was taken to a hospital at Pineville, in Bell County. His condition is not serious.

Officials said Mr. Israel told them he was beaten and chased out of Harlan. He had been in the Harlan County coal fields for some time furnishing news to radical labor newspapers.

The bullet entered the fleshy part of his leg above the knee. He said he did not know the man or men who shot him, but that he probably would recognize them if he saw them again.

Forced Into Automobile.

He said he was standing near the courthouse door getting news when three men approached and said, "We are going to take you out for a little mountain air." They put him in an automobile, drove him to the city limits, forced him out and commenced firing, he said. One bullet hit his leg. He hailed a taxicab and was taken to the Pineville Hospital, where the bullet was extracted. He will remain in the hospital for a week.

Plans for proceeding Wednesday with the trial of William M. Burnett, miner charged with having fatally shot Deputy Sheriff Jesse Pace during a Harlan County labor dispute, and for transferring at least fourteen Evarts murder cases to some other county were announced here late today by Commonwealth Attorney W. A. Brock.

In organizing the grand jury at the opening of court today, Circuit Judge D. C. Jones instructed the jurors to take up cases of violence in the coal fields not covered by the previous grand jury. He told them to investigate criminal syndicalism charges first.

Armed Deputies on Guard.

Deputies under Sheriff J. K. Blair were armed with rifles and guarded the building housing the jail and court. They had tear gas bombs ready in case of emergency and in front of the building stood a hand-made armored car converted from an old bread wagon and reinforced with steel and asbestos.

Fairmont, W. Va., Aug. 17 (A.P.). Van A. Bittner, chief international representative of the United Mine Workers of American in northern West Virginia, today expressed willingness to order the end of the strike of bituminous coal miners in that district pending arbitration of wage disputes either by President Hoover or Secretary of Labor Doak. His plan was submitted in a telegram to Secretary Doak and in a letter to T. N. Moran, secretary of the Fairmont Coal Operators Association.

"You can consider this," he said, "as the official transmission of the plan for the settlement of the strike made by the United Mine Workers of America in northern West Virginia."

Meanwhile, miners affiliated with the West Virginia miners union operating in the Kanawha field surrounding Charleston, W. Va., were returning to work today on union orders at mines where, the officials said, operators had agreed to reemploy "without discrimination."

French Farmers to Get Loans as Industry Does

Paris, Aug. 17 (A.P.).—French farmers for the first time now are able to procure financial aid on the same basis as industry.

Andrew Tardieu, former premier, now minister of agriculture, has brought about an accord whereby the Bank of France agrees to discount agricultural paper, offered by local banks, on the same terms as industrial paper. Paper of cooperative societies previously was never accepted as collateral by the French banks.

14 LIVES ARE LOST IN BRITISH STORMS

Gales and Rain Whip Coast; Several Towns Flooded Boats Are Missing.

London, Aug. 17 (U.P.).—Furious gales and continued rain which caused the worst floods in 40 years in Selkirkshire had taken a toll of fourteen lives in Britain tonight.

Many sailing boats were overdue and damage to crops and buildings was great in outlying villages.

The storms, which began Sunday, extended throughout the British Isles and along the northern European coast, buffeting ships at sea and wrecking many small vessels along the coast.

Wealthy Yachtsman Drowns.

One of the dead was Col. C. H. Hudson, wealthy amateur yachtsman, who was swept from the deck of the Maitenes II during the Fastnet competition. One American yacht in the race, the Amberjack II, owned by T. D. Rust, jr., has not been reported.

Flood damage in many villages increased steadily with continued rain. Hundreds of houses were isolated in the lowlands of Wales and England, and crops were ruined over a wide area.

Breakwaters were destroyed and vacation bungalows along the English Channel were abandoned. The storm along the channel was described as the worst in 25 years.

The yachting regatta at Weymouth was abandoned and the king's yacht, Britannia, was forced to run for shelter in Portland Harbor.

Between Newcastle and Whitely Bay the railroads were submerged. Streets were flooded at Newcastle, South Shields and Dundee.

Rivers at Flood Stage.

There were serious landslides in Selkirkshire, Scotland, where the Rivers Twee, Ettrick and Yarrow were at flood stage.

The Thames was at a high stage and buildings along its banks were damaged.

Geneva, Switzerland, Aug. 17 (U.P.). Storms throughout Switzerland in the last three days have resulted in fourteen deaths and caused wide damage.

Seven persons were drowned when a motor boat turned over on Lake Zurich, which was swept by a sudden gale. Streets in many villages were flooded to a depth of 4 feet. Thousands of acres of land were inundated.

Wilmington, Del., Aug. 17 (A.P.).—Charles C. Keedy, Wilmington attorney who last week was appointed by the chancery court as special master to hold a meeting of stockholders of the F. H. Smith Co., of Washington and New York, for the purpose of electing a new board of directors, today sent notices to stockholders calling the meeting for September 15 in Wilmington.

Mr. Keedy said in the notices that the chancery court had ordered all outstanding shares of cotton stock of the corporation cancelled. The outstanding stock totals 200,000 shares. The court held that the cotton stock had been issued without a valid consideration.

There still are pending before the court applications for the appointment of a receiver for the company and the revocation of the company's Delaware charter for alleged misuse of its corporate power.

Mme. Soong, who knew the old China, but lived through the revolution to see her sons and daughters reach posts of influence, reared all six in the Christian religion, to which she subscribed all her life.

Mme. Soong will be buried tomorrow in Hungjao Cemetery beside her husband, C. J. Soong, who died in 1918, one of the leading civilian supporters of Dr. Sun Yat-Sen in the 1911 revolution and the years following.

The finest tobacco quality plus throat protection.

Every LUCKY STRIKE is made of the finest tobacco leaves the world can offer—the finest from Turkey—the finest from Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia, Georgia and the Carolinas—the Cream of many Crops throughout the world. But all tobacco leaves, regardless of price and kind, as nature produces them, contain harsh irritants. LUCKY STRIKE'S exclusive "TOASTING" Process—a process that mellows, that purifies, that includes the use of the modern Ultra Violet Ray—expels certain harsh irritants naturally present in every tobacco leaf. We sell these expelled irritants to manufacturers of chemical compounds, who use them as a base in making sheep-dip*, as well as a powerful spraying solution for trees, flowers and shrubs—enough to permit the daily dipping of over 50,000 sheep or the daily spraying of many thousands of trees. Thus, you are sure these irritants, naturally present in all tobacco leaves, are not in your LUCKY STRIKE. "They're out—so they can't be in!"

SOUTH AFRICA URGED AS U. S. TRADE FIELD

Official of Newspaper Chain Says Residents Prefer American Goods.

South Africa as a field for manufactured articles and various other products that is neglected by American commercial firms was pointed out yesterday by George Black, a director of the firm and advertising manager for the Star newspapers, a chain of eight publications with its head office in Johannesburg.

"A field could not be found that is more untouched by American advertising," Mr. Black said while visiting The Post yesterday. "American goods of all things are preferred by people in the South African Union, including farming implements, automobiles, wearing apparel and hundreds of other articles."

Mr. Black also pointed out that Americans in South Africa, many of whom have gone there as representatives of this country, remain there to enter business and make their homes, "bringing a spirit of good-fellowship that is very welcome" in the comparatively young British colony.

The veteran newspaperman, who has been connected with the Johannesburg Star for 25 years, is a native of North Ireland. He has been touring Canada and the United States, and says that he has been wonderfully inspired by some of the things seen, but "disappointed in others." He is a guest at the Washington Hotel.

Lady June, Actress, at Reno Divorces Lord Inverclyde

Reno, Nev., Aug. 17 (A.P.).—Lord Inverclyde, who as John Alan Burns is a leading official of the Cunard Steamship Co., was divorced here today by the London music hall favorite, June. She charged extreme mental and physical cruelty.

Lady June, who appeared in court dressed entirely in black, testified her husband "drank far too much and never was entirely sober"; that he was sullen and resentful and that he frequently insulted her friends.

In Paris in November of 1929, she testified, he grabbed her by the throat and threatened to choke her.

It was shortly after this occurrence, according to her counsel, William Woodburn, that Lady Inverclyde brought suit in London to have their marriage annulled. The suit was dismissed, because the London courts held they were without jurisdiction.

Although she has admitted that she hopes some day to marry Lothar Mendes, Hollywood film director, Lady Inverclyde said today the event would not take place immediately. She expects to remain here for a while, then go to Hollywood, where she may enter motion pictures.

Lower Rates in Effect On Atlantic Liners

Paris, Aug. 17 (U.P.).—The great steamship companies of the North Atlantic today began a trial period of reduced passenger rates from Europe to America.

The reductions put into effect as a result of an agreement reached last month ranged from 10 to 30 per cent and affect virtually all classes of travel from tourist to luxury. The move was described as an indirect result of the Hoover debt holiday plan, inasmuch as the shipping companies hoped to aid in reversing the downward movement of world trade.

GIRL VICTIMS ALIVE WHEN FIRE WAS SET

Coroner Finds Gasoline Was Poured on Bodies After Criminal Assault.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Aug. 17 (A.P.).—While authorities continued to check the story of Catherine Keller, friend of Fred Smith, one of the three men who killed and burned two young couples near here last Tuesday, a coroner's report was presented today showing that the two girl victims had been burned before death and that each had been criminally attacked.

Dr. Edwin C. Ganzhorn, the coroner, said that an autopsy indicated that the slayers, Smith, Frank Oliver and David Blackstone, Negro, placed the girls in the car and sprayed gasoline over their bodies before death had ensued from blows on the head.

The findings showed that each of the girls, Anna May Harrison and Vivian Gold, both of Cleveland, had suffered skull fractures. Whether they were unconscious at the time of the burning could not be determined.

The slayers testified at their trial Thursday night that they shot all four—the two girls and Harry Lore and Thomas Wheatley, and struck them on the heads with rocks before burning the bodies.

Prosecutor Albert Rapp announced that statements of the three slayers and of Miss Keller led him to believe that the girl was not with the men when the robbery and slaying was committed.

PROBLEMS OF MASS OUTPUT.

For half a century or more Americans have prided themselves that everything in the United States was growing bigger and better, particularly bigger. Unmindful of foreign jibes about crass materialism and lack of appreciation of the artistic side of life, Americans have gone on building the biggest, tallest, longest and heaviest of everything, with an innate feeling that when some of the cruder tasks of subduing a raw continent and creating the world's greatest republic had been accomplished, the other things would come along. And they have.

But in some things Americans appear to have overreached themselves. It seems curious now that the boom times of the war and the inevitable reactions could not have been better controlled. How could so many fail to realize the ephemeral character of unprecedented demands for products of every kind? Why were Americans and all of the world so blind to the fact that it would be ruinous to continue expanding production far ahead of purchasing power and potential market demands?

In truth, this will be known as the machine age. It will be recorded that man's ingenuity for invention, his ability to produce many things where one was produced before with no increase in the man power required, was a wonderful achievement. Succeeding generations, will wonder, too, that the intellects which conceived these marvels of mechanical efficiency did not also reason that these machines were multiplying output inordinately while population and agencies of distribution were developing more slowly.

The problems of this catastrophe are now occupying the sober attention of the best intelligence in America. Former depressions have simply worn themselves out. When household supplies ran low and store shelves were empty, the factories started up again to replenish them. But never before were factories and farms equipped as today to produce such vast quantities of everything. With the resumption of production on a larger scale a more reasonable balance must be maintained between what the producers in every industry turn out and actual consumption needs.

This is the problem that the overgrown machine age must grapple with as it contemplates full-time resumption of business. Industry must not again be so productive that it defeats its own ends. The most encouraging sign of the times is the study of this question by those best qualified to solve it. It seems incredible, in view of the present realization of past errors, that business will embark upon a new era without developing some practical machinery for the scientific adjustment of supply and demand.

SHOUSE'S POPGUN CHARGE.

Jouett Shouse, chairman of the Democratic national executive committee, is back on the firing line. The propaganda battery commanded by Mr. Shouse has been silent for some time. Ever since President Hoover announced his plan for a moratorium on war debts the Democratic swashbucklers have found it difficult to get into action. In some quarters it has been argued that they were merely preparing a formidable countercharge in an effort to capture some of the prestige that has accrued to the administration. But these hopes were sadly shattered when Jouett Shouse returned to the front with his popgun and began firing wildly at the administration's program for relief of the unemployed.

Apparently Mr. Shouse just had to break into print again, even though he could find nothing but frivolous complaints against the policy he tried to criticize. One point on which he is emphatic is that a superabundance of relief should be provided whether or not there is any need for it. Why rely upon current estimates of relief needs? Let plans be made to care for not only those who are out of work, but those who may lose their jobs in the future. Like Detroit's prodigal mayor, Mr. Shouse calls for less investigation and more "positive action."

In spite of the fact that the policy of the administration on unemployment is well known, Mr. Shouse demands the announcement of a concrete plan. President Hoover has taken steps to coordinate the activities of relief agencies throughout the country; he has organized an employment service that has given jobs to hundreds of thousands; the building program has been accelerated to the full extent of the Government's available resources. Furthermore, the President is cooperating with industry on plans to stabilize employment and restore idle men to their jobs. Beyond that what can be done without sacrificing fundamental principles on which the Government rests and demoralizing American enterprise?

It is rather for Mr. Shouse to say what he would add to President Hoover's program. Would he commit the Nation to the dole? Would he plunge the country into socialism? Would he put the unemployed on the Federal pay roll? Some constructive suggestions ought to be forthcoming from one who indulges in such petty criticism of what is being done. But Mr. Shouse does not intend to take any responsibility upon the Democratic party for dealing with this difficult situation. His only purpose is to embarrass the President through partisan quibbling.

The public realizes, of course, that Mr. Shouse's official statements are confined to a very narrow latitude just at present. He can not demand repeal of the tariff act at the next session of Congress because the Democratic party is split on the issue. When the question of a dole is presented, he finds stalwart Democrats on both sides of the fence. He must face the ugly fact that as a party the Democrats have nothing to offer that might mitigate the effects of the depression. Hence, the public may expect to hear a good deal of futile popgun firing from Mr. Shouse's battery.

AN IMPOSSIBLE TASK.

More than two years ago the national committee on law enforcement, composed of eleven of the country's most distinguished and experienced students of social problems, began a study of the causes of crime and possible remedies. To facilitate action these experts turned the problem over to research workers in special fields. The commission has now published the findings of these investigators along with its own conclusion that it is "impossible comprehensively to discuss the causes of crime or factors in nonobservance of law."

In this report the commission admits its failure to carry out the chief purpose for which it was created. It was hoped that the commission might be able to put its finger on the weak spots in modern society from which crime springs, and from that diagnosis to prescribe remedies. But when the experts are unable definitely to locate the sources of crime it is futile to talk of remedies. The so-called crime problem with its infinite ramifications is beyond the scope of any commission. This body was assigned an impossible task. It might just as well have undertaken to decipher human nature.

The commission is to be congratulated on recognizing its own limitations. Had it undertaken to delineate the causes of crime in the order of their importance without having scientific information on the subject the efforts of communities to solve their own problems of criminality might have been adversely influenced. The never-ending war on crime might have been hampered. Contributing factors to lawlessness have been pointed out by the experts in their various fields. Unemployment, broken homes, defective mentality, lack of schooling and police corruption are prominent elements in criminal careers. But for every crime there is a different admixture of the elements of cause. Most crimes are committed by individuals and therefore the motives behind them are as complex as personality. The commission could do no more than point out these factors.

The chief value of this report is its suggestion that crime can not be treated as an epidemic. No body of experts could isolate the germ of criminality and then prescribe a remedy. Each individual case must be diagnosed and treated according to its own peculiarities. Of course, much is learned in this process that may be generally applied. But crime, nevertheless, remains a problem of individual human beings.

Most of the basic causes of crime may be traced back to deficiencies in modern civilization or weaknesses in human nature. These are extremely difficult to eliminate. Crime has always existed, and presumably it always will. The best that can be done is to keep the criminal elements under control and to remove causes wherever possible, which means a gradual evolution toward a higher state of civilization. The commission can hardly be criticized for not devising a remedy for the basic weaknesses of humanity.

WHAT INDIA DEMANDS.

Twenty-seven delegates from India, including several princes, are on the high seas bound for the round table conference in London. They departed from Bombay, depressed that Mahatma Gandhi was not accompanying them and likewise grieving that the restrictions of the British liner would not permit them to take their goats and cows along.

Gandhi himself did little to cheer the representatives, his last words being: "I don't expect anything from the London conference." Relieved of the necessity of donning the homespun suit prepared for his appearance in the British capital, Gandhi has retired to Ahmedabad. Addressing the crowd there, he said: "If it is peace, don't disturb it; if it is war, the people will know how to respond."

High hopes for the London parley, which arose out of the Delhi agreements ending the civil disobedience campaign, are considerably dampened by the sudden change in the situation on the very eve of the Indian delegation's departure. Gandhi's request for an independent tribunal to consider alleged abuses in connection with tax collections caused a disagreement between him and the viceroy, Lord Willingdon, and brought about his decision to remain in India. So, notwithstanding the scholars, priests and princes who compose the Indian delegation, it will be considered both in London and India a Hamletless committee.

It is doubtful, however, whether the formula to be worked out at the conference could be made acceptable to India even with Gandhi present. The list of reforms prepared by the parliamentary committee of the all-India nationalist congress to be offered by the Indian delegates is a formidable one. It includes demands for such sweeping reforms as prohibition and disarmament for India, state ownership of all important industries, resources and transportation facilities and a ban on narcotics except for medicinal purposes.

The program prepared for Gandhi, that his less celebrated associates must now endeavor to secure from the British, is based on "fundamental rights," which are considered necessary in order that "exploitation of the masses" shall be terminated. The delegates seek "political freedom that must include real economic freedom for India's starving millions." Additional items in the long list of demands include the adjudication of all debts incurred by the British in India during the last 150 years, exclusion of foreign cloth, universal adult suffrage, free primary education, duty-free native salt, reduction of all salaries to a maximum of 500 rupees monthly and radical reforms in the systems of land tenure and revenue taxation. This does not complete the list, but the enumeration is sufficient to show that the London round table discussion will require much time and that there will be wide differences of opinion on many of the subjects.

In view of these radical demands it is not surprising that Gandhi despairs of any constructive solution of India's problems at this time. The Indians may be expected to compromise, but there seems to be little hope that the breach between them and the British government can be closed in the forthcoming negotiations.

PROGRESS IN PORTO RICO

From the New York Herald Tribune.

If the accomplishments of America overseas can rightly be measured in any field, that test should have been met in Porto Rico. The thirty-third anniversary of our occupation of the island recently provided the opportunity for a taking of stock that is highly complimentary to the record of the new regime. That this appraisal was made by the islanders makes its conclusions all the more impressive. The partisan dissent of the small separatist faction passed unheeded in the face of the convincing testimony of the native leaders, who took occasion to contrast the present order with conditions under Spanish rule. The sentimental attachment of some of the old Spanish-born inhabitants to the colonial system of their mother country is readily understood, especially as its benefits have been exaggerated and its defects minimized by the mellowing influence of time. However, a dispassionate survey of our achievements in the island will show beyond a doubt that the Porto Ricans are far better off for their American citizenship.

The corner stone of the American regime has been the system of public school education which has been implanted throughout the island. The traveler from the mainland is always much impressed by the fine school buildings that he sees in every town and throughout the rural districts. According to the Insular Commission of Education the number of teachers has increased from 625 to nearly 5,000 and the enrollment of pupils from less than 45,000 to 290,000. Concrete evidence of the results obtained is seen in the fact that the rate of illiteracy has been cut practically in half.

Since Porto Rico became a part of the United States a network of remarkably good roads has been built connecting every part of the island. Using the old Spanish military road between Ponce and San Juan as a nucleus, the total mileage of highways has been increased from 93 to 1,110, which is virtually adequate to serve the needs of every district of the compact little territory.

Another outstanding accomplishment of the last 33 years has been the improvement in public sanitation and private hygiene, which has resulted in lowering the death rate from 35 to 28 a thousand. The Spanish administration was notoriously lax in its regard for the public health, and the age-long inertia of the lower classes had to be overcome before they could be impressed with the proper concern for their physical welfare. However, a great deal still remains to be done to check the triple blight of malaria, hookworm and tuberculosis and to cut down the excessive rate of infant mortality.

In spite of the progress made, grave economic and social problems are yet to be solved. The island is only now recovering from one of the most disastrous hurricanes in the history of the Antilles. The incubus of prohibition has deprived it of a tourist trade that has enriched other islands in the Caribbean. It has suffered much from the low price of sugar, its principal crop. Its people, accustomed to a simple agricultural economy, has yet to adapt itself to a different economic order that holds new and more complex problems and responsibilities. Its population is already greatly in excess of its very limited area, much of which is incapable of cultivation. In fact, its population is about that of Connecticut, whereas its area is approximately 40 per cent less. The increasing numbers of landless jibaros, or country folk, should have a large interest in the soil to which they live so close.

In meeting these problems the islanders have been fortunate in the wholehearted dedication of Gov. Roosevelt to the interests of his people. Because of its Spanish cultural traditions, the island has a special importance as our closest link with the republics of Latin America, with which it maintains intimate intellectual and spiritual bonds. Also on account of this community of language and blood, Porto Ricans have been invaluable aids in the promotion of our export trade with the countries to the south.

Most Miserable of Men Are Those Who Can Enjoy Nothing But Perfection

By ROBERT QUILLEN

THERE is a common belief that heart-hungry people hunger for love.

It is a belief that confesses want of understanding or want of experience.

The fact of being loved does not satisfy a hunger of the heart, but merely gratifies vanity.

In this respect the love of a dog or a maiden aunt might serve as well as any other.

The heart of an ungrateful son is not affected by the abundant love of his mother; a woman loved by many men may be heart-hungry still if she gives nothing in return; the love of thousands can not appease the longing of one who is unable to love.

It is not the desire for love that makes hearts ache, but the yearning for something to love.

Man must exercise all of his capacities in order to be a whole and normal man, and his ability to love is sufficient evidence that he must love to satisfy a natural hunger.

It is this innate longing to love that prompts lonely people to adopt pets; they must have something on which to lavish the affection they can not give to another of their kind.

You may find much-loved people who are unhappy still, but you will find no unhappy ones who give great love in return.

In fact, the need to love is so vital that no one possessed of normal capacities can be truly happy without something to awaken and hold his affection.

Do you realize that modern youth's cynical mockery of love is a defense mechanism to hide an unconfessed heart hunger?

Thrown together in brazen intimacy, without benefit of the mystery that awakens romance, young people wait in vain for one who can win their admiration and devotion.

Do you know why so many husbands, hungry of heart without knowing why, keep on the watch for illicit romance?

Because their love yearns to guide, protect and provide for a feminine creature whose need flatters their masculine pride, and no man can feel a tender and chivalrous love for a self-reliant and self-sufficient mate who obviously has no need of him.

Do you know why so many wives wear an expression of dissatisfaction and resentment?

Because they hunger to love, and no woman can feel romantic love for a man in all ways so like herself that he awakens no envy or admiration.

A too literal acceptance of sex equality has left them nothing to adore.

Pinchot's Dole.

New York Herald Tribune.

Now that Gov. Pinchot has joined the cry for a Federal dole the line-up seems clearly in sight. The political emotion, the shrill adjectives and the vagueness will be on the side of a huge Federal loan. American custom and efficient relief for the needy will alike remain on the side of local community help.

The agitation thus begun will be traceable in part to a misconception of the functions of a Federal government and of the resources of a national treasury. It will be traceable in still larger part, however, to a very accurate conception by a goodly sized body of senators and representatives of their major function at the Capitol, which is to buy out of public funds a politically useful reputation for prodigality.

Can Liquor Problem Be Cured by More Liquor—Dr. La Rue Asks Wets to Offer a Real Solution.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: I have just read what Messrs. Busch, Woll and Curran have said about the cure of unemployment and business depression by means of antiprohibition measures. They all aver that the modification of our prohibition laws would stimulate business. Truly, it would stimulate the liquor business. If we would modify our pure food laws it would likewise stimulate the business of those who would like to produce an output below standard. If we would repeal our laws regulating opium traffic it would greatly aid the opium vendor. If we would abolish our laws regulating the sale and use of machine guns and other firearms it would be directly in the interest of the gangster.

These gentlemen complain much about the social and economic unrest on account of prohibition. The lawbreaker is always in an uncomfortable position. The prohibitory law was made as a measure to avoid public injury. Personal liberty must end where public injury begins.

For example, there is in my congregation a splendid young woman, a college graduate and a mother of three children. She is totally blind; because a drunken physician put the wrong medicine in her eyes. Not long since a fine young man came with his little family into our community. He secured a position, but soon lost it because his employer could not use a man given to drink. Two of our Bible classes took pity on the little family and raised funds to send them back to a distant city.

Some of us doubt most sincerely whether the liquor problem can be cured with liquor. Can an employer of labor afford to employ men and trust his affairs in their hands if they are given to strong drink? There might be a ray of hope for the modificationist if he could find some way of enforcing moderation.

It was not the use but the abuse of liquor that created the public sentiment that has crystallized into the eighteenth amendment. Let these gentlemen get busy and offer some solution to the problem as to how the American public can be taught to use liquor, without destroying moral character, without causing social disturbances, without multiplying hazards of life and property, and they will make a real contribution. Meanwhile they may rest assured that the American people will not be tricked into the fallacy of thinking that a free use of liquor will really help anybody unless it be the undertaker.

More Candidates Passed Recent Bar Examination Than Ever Before.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: The result of the last bar examination in the District is, indeed, gratifying. According to the chairman of the examining committee, 323 applicants out of 537 who took the examination passed. The records show that this is the largest number of successful candidates in any bar examination here.

It is to be noted that there are nine law schools in Washington. National University had the largest number of successful candidates to the bar—more than 100. As a matter of fact, this university has consistently maintained its standing.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: There has been too much controversy about unemployment. Time is wasted. Let us end confusion. That is the main thing. Obvious enough are the measures necessary for relief. Take positions from married women whose husbands are working and give them to unemployed husbands. Complaints could be expected, but the number of idle men, now reported as high, would be substantially reduced. We can not allow this stagnant labor situation to go on. America is going the same way as China. The accumulating idle population implies an ill omen.

And change its toll of men and things will take
This is the self-same moon that Adam knew.

And marvel just as I that moon and lake

60 OFFICE SEEKERS LISTED IN ARLINGTON

Final 16 Days of Filing May Bring More Candidates for 12 Posts.

ARLINGTON COUNTY BUREAU OF THE POST.
Tel. Clar. 509. Clarendon, Va.

With but sixteen days left for filing of notices of intention by candidates for twelve offices to be filled at the county election in November there is much speculation as to whether the present list of aspirants, which numbers 60, will be increased.

Offices to be filled are: Commonwealth's attorney, sheriff, trial justice, commissioner of revenue, county treasurer, constable and five memberships on the county board.

Memberships of the county board seem to be developing the most interest. For these places there are now 35 candidates filed with the county clerk. Of this number five are Republicans, two are colored persons and the remainder are running as independents.

Commonwealth's Attorney William O. Gloth, incumbent, is opposed by four other candidates, Amos C. Crounse, Clarence R. Ahalt, Emery N. Roamer and Lawrence Douglass.

Sheriff Howard W. Fields, incumbent, has as opponents Edward Duncan, A. C. Clements and Z. O. Kines.

For trial justice, a new office created by the General Assembly at its last session which abolishes the offices of police court judge and justices of the peace, there are five candidates. They are Walter U. Varney, H. W. Dudley, Bryan Gordon, B. M. Hedrick and Hugh M. McCaffrey.

For commissioner of revenue, Harry K. Green (incumbent) is being opposed by C. W. Clever.

County Treasurer E. Wade Ball, who is completing his twenty-fourth year in office and is seeking reelection, is the only county official thus far who has no opposition.

For constable, there are four in the race: A. D. Langley, W. H. Payne, A. H. Fought and George Vollin, jr., colored.

Candidates seeking membership on the county board of five are C. H. Bowbeer, Louis C. Carl, F. F. Chew, Albert H. Cohen, Harry A. Fellows, Robert H. Forman, John G. Gall, Fred A. Goshnell, Harry B. Harris (colored), James W. Head, William C. Hull, Lyman M. Kelly, L. C. Lloyd, Frank E. Martin, Mrs. Elizabeth B. Magruder, John A. McKnight, William A. McShea, Thomas R. Mechem, Dr. W. T. Morton (colored), John R. Mossburg, W. O. Pickett, Robert E. Plymale, J. C. Pepper, C. F. Rauth, George D. Ricker, R. J. Robertson, W. E. Rose, Mrs. Mayme Smith, E. C. Turnburke, Thomas S. Wallis, G. Samuel Warner, Herbert L. Wilson, Fred N. Windridge and W. W. Wright.

Arlington-Fairfax Counties Volunteer Firemen's Association will hold its monthly meeting tonight at the Ballston Firemen's Hall at 8 o'clock.

Among projects before the meeting will be movements for appointment of a superintendent of machinery by the county and for consolidation of all Arlington County departments under one organization. Plans for the annual carnival to be held at intersection of Wilson boulevard and Clements avenue early in September will also be discussed.

Rockville Fair Will Open Today With Full Program

Children's Day, Wrestling, Wild West Rodeo, Races and Gliding to Be Features; Flower Show Will Be Attraction on Thursday.

With a wrestling match and a wild west rodeo among the chief features, the seventy-eighth annual Rockville Fair opens today at the Rockville Fairgrounds, with the widest range of attractions in its history.

The fair will last through Thursday, with auto races scheduled for Friday and Saturday. Today will be children's day in accordance with the long established practice of devoting the first day of the fair to the children of Maryland and Washington. All children of school age and not more than 14 years old will be admitted free today.

Chief among the day's attractions will be a pony show and pony races, a cat show and a dog show, with judging of boys' and girls' exhibits at the pavilion. Among the many free acts between the pony races will be a terrapin race, in which the terrapins first to reach the outer rim of a large circle will be awarded prizes. More than 100 terrapins are expected to be started in the event.

The night program's big event will be the wrestling bouts, which will be staged under the auspices of the fair by Joe Turner, promoter of Washington, who also will be among the participants.

The Hawk glider, which won the glider endurance record several days ago, will be among the exhibits to be shown at the fair by the Congressional Airport. Glider contests and aviation programs will be included in the fair program.

Larger than ever are the 4-H Club exhibits this year, with a number of extra awards promised to increase the interest.

Chief among the booths at the fair will be those of the Montgomery County Chapter of the American Red Cross, the booth of the auxiliary of the Henderson-Smith-Edmonds Post of the American Legion, which will exhibit and sell articles made at the Perry Point Veterans' Hospital by wounded war veterans.

A wild West rodeo show will be staged each afternoon and evening by the dare-devil riders of the stranded 101 Wild West Show, and residents of the county are invited to bring on their most fractious equine animals for the bronco busting shows.

Horse races will start tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock, and will be repeated Thursday. A flower show also will be a feature of the Wednesday fair.

ALEXANDRIA TROOPS WIN CAMP RECORDS

Qualified Rifle Range Men Outnumber Those of 18 Other Companies.

THE WASHINGTON POST BUREAU.
907 Prince St., Alexandria, Va.
Phone Alexandria 523.

The Alexandria Light Infantry, officially Company I, First Infantry, Virginia National Guard, which returned Sunday from a two-weeks encampment at Virginia Beach with other units of the First and 116th Regiments established a record for attendance at encampments by carrying its full complement of 3 officers and 64 men to camp.

Other records made by the company include the highest percentage of men qualifying on the rifle range, having 84 per cent, or higher than any other of the eighteen companies of the regiment, and second highest rating in the regiment in all-around efficiency, based on combat training, marksmanship, athletics, administration, military conduct and sanitation, the first honors going to Company C, of Richmond, by a small margin.

On the regimental rifle team, made up of 75 men picked from the ones with the highest rifle qualifications, the local company was represented by Sergt. Burton E. Archer, whose score of 238 out of a possible 250 was near the top.

It is expected the selection of a police captain to succeed W. W. Campbell will not be made before September 1, since two of the five members of the city council are out of the city, these being Vice Mayor Arthur Herbert and Councilman C. C. Lamond, the latter being in Europe. It is understood that 18 applicants are being considered by City Manager Wallace Lawrence, several of these being members of the present police force.

Jury Holds Smith Death Due to Own Negligence

A Prince Georges County coroner's jury decided last night that Linwood Smith, killed in an auto accident near his home in Branchville, Md., last week, come to his death as a result of his own negligence. Testimony offered at the inquest showed that Smith came out of a side road and crossed the center of the road to crash head-on into a truck.

An inquest into the death of Frank Simpson, of Glenn Dale, was deemed unnecessary. Simpson was killed near Lanham, Md., when he stepped in front of an auto last Friday night.

Boy Struck by Motor While Riding Bicycle

Struck by an auto while riding his bicycle in Riverdale, Md., yesterday, John Miles Zucker, 10 years old, of University Park, Md., was treated for cuts and bruises by Dr. R. A. Bennett, of Riverdale.

According to police, the car which struck the youth was driven by Charles Byers, of Hyattsville. They said Byers made every effort to avoid the child, driving across the yellow line in the attempt. Byers was not held, and the boy was not thought to be seriously injured.

Dump Nearly Full, Hacker Declares

Asks Road to Blue Plains Improvement as Aid to Refuse Disposal.

Because the city dump across Highway Bridge is rapidly filling up, Morris Hacker, District refuse supervisor, yesterday urged the District Commissioners to order the improvement of the road to Blue Plains, where facilities exist for the disposal of waste for many years. The recommendation was incorporated in the annual report of the refuse department.

The report refers to the rejection of all bids for the two proposed incinerators, brought about through indefinite specifications, and points out that unless Congress reappropriates the necessary money shortly after it reconvenes, the disposal of trash will constitute a serious problem.

The refuse department collected $29,481.12 during the past fiscal year from the sale of grease, material salvaged from the trash plant, hide and manure. A total of 50,460 dead animals was gathered.

SURPLUS OF HORSES FOR MARLBORO FAIR

More Than 300 to Compete With Only 290 Stalls; Overflow to Bowie.

More horses have been entered in the events of the Marlboro Fair than there are stalls, William G. Brooke, secretary of the fair association, said yesterday. Owners of more than 300 horses have announced their intention of competing in the events, and there are accomodations at the fair grounds for only 290.

Mr. Brooke said that the surplus horses will be stabled at the Bowie Race Track and brought to Marlboro by motor van. Those horsemen who have already arrived are enthusiastic over the new surfacing which has been put on the Marlboro track during the past month. Because exhibitors of farm produce do not enter their products until they are brought to the fair grounds, he could not estimate the number of these exhibitors.

Twelve of the 21 women's clubs in the county federation have taken booths in the fair, taking up all the space allotted to the federation's exhibits. The clubs and their booth numbers are: 1, Chillum District Study Club; 2, Women's Community Club of Berwyn; 3, Women's Club of Mellwood District; 4, Decatur Heights Community Club; 5, Housekeepers' Club of Decatur Heights; 6, Women's Civic League of Mount Rainier; 7, Seat Pleasant Home Demonstration Club; 8, the Suitland Home Makers' Club; 9, Women's Club of Cottage City; 10, Community Club of Landover; 11, Women's Club of Brandywine, and 12, Oxon Hill Women's Community Club.

Dry Offender Convicted; Elects Jail Sentence

Homer Payne, colored, of Bethesda, Md., yesterday was sentenced to pay a fine of $300 or serve a year in jail on charges of possession of intoxicating liquor with intent to sell following his conviction before Judge Charles W. Woodward in Rockville Police Court. Payne told the court he would serve the term.

Payne was arrested August 8 by Corpl. Oscar Gaither and Policemen Windsor C. Poole, James E. Shoemaker and Theodore Vollten of the Bethesda substation in the first of a series of raids staged by county police in the past several weeks. He was charged with having 175 gallons of alleged liquor in his possession.

McCarl Rules Marines In Nicaragua at War

(Associated Press.)

Comptroller General McCarl has decided that Marine officers in Nicaragua who have no dependents are not entitled to rental allowance because they are supposed to be at war and living in tents.

Secretary Adams had asked payment of the allowances on the ground that all the Marines except an aviation detachment were withdrawn from active duty in the field three months ago and concentrated at Managua.

In refusing the request the Comptroller General declared that a military expeditionary force in a foreign country "is in fact on field duty" regardless of whether it is stationed in the area in which there is actual conflict.

When not thus engaged officers are allowed a stated amount for rental, averaging about $60 a month for those without dependents. It was said at the Navy Department that officers in Nicaragua with dependents were receiving their allowances.

BANK IN HOPEWELL IS CLOSED BY STATE

Special to The Washington Post.

Petersburg, Va., Aug. 17.—The doors of the Hopewell Bank & Trust Co were closed this morning and on them was a signed order by M. E. Bristow, State commissioner of insurance and banking, which stated that he had closed and suspended the bank until further notice.

The bank's closing came without any warning to the people of the city and deposits were received Saturday, as usual.

The Hopewell Bank & Trust Co. is the sole depository for the funds of the City of Hopewell, but they are believed to be entirely covered by depository bonds.

Announcement was made in Richmond today of the acquisition of the Richmond Trust Co., some of whose officers were interested in the Hopewell Bank, by the American Bank & Trust Co. of Richmond. The Hopewell Bank & Trust Co. has a maximum capital of $250,000.

Mr. Bristow ordered the closing of the Hopewell Bank to protect the depositors. The Hopewell Bank closed under the decision of banking and insurance of the State Corporation Commission, and pursuant to Mr. Bristow's recommendation, an order of the commission authorizing the appointment of a receiver for the institution was entered. The bank had $250,000 in capital stock outstanding.

Mr. Bristow wrote the corporation commission as follows: "I regret very much to advise that the affairs of the Hopewell Bank & Trust Co., Hopewell, Va., are in such condition that I believe its capital, surplus and undivided profits are seriously impaired, if not wiped out entirely, and I feel that the institution should be closed on that account. I have already directed its officers not to open this morning.

"Under the circumstances, I recommend that an order be entered giving them authority to apply for a receivership, and I make that request."

The closing of the bank was the sole topic of conversation in Hopewell today, and around the bank building was a throng of people.

Hail Covers Denver's Streets.

Denver, Aug. 17 (A.P.).—Hail more than an inch deep coated the ground in Denver today during a storm which also brought heavy rain. In places the hail stones drifted three feet deep. Children brought out their sleds and enjoyed half an hour of sliding on ice-covered lawns and streets.

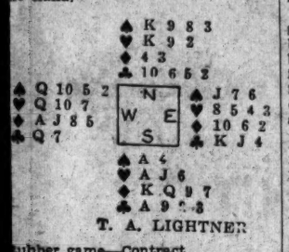
Culbertson on Contract

by Ely Culbertson

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

DOUBLE-BARRELED SQUEEZE.

THIS hand is interesting for two reasons: It shows a clocklike precision and rhythm in the development of a hand when played a master such as Theodore A. Lightner; it illustrates how a slight lack in the defense (see comment below)—choosing carelessly a ten higher than a six—gives an opening edge to ply open an otherwise air-tight hand.



T. A. LIGHTNER

Rubber game—Contract.
No score.
South—Dealer.

The Bidding:

South was playing a contract of three notrump.
It had been a long and hard-fought rubber. East and West had been heavily penalized, attempting to stop the scoring of the rubber game, when Fate unkindly dealt them the hands shown above with which they were unable to find any kind of a Defensive bid, even though making the contract meant game.

This hand is interesting because of the magnificent play of Mrs. Theodore A. Lightner, who held the South hand. The manner in which this master developed the hand is so interesting that I give it in detail.

The Play:

(Underscored cards win tricks.)
(Figures after plays in table refer to numbered explanatory paragraphs.)

♠2(1)	♠8(2)	♠J	♠A
♣7	♣2	♣4	♣A
♣Q	♣5	♣K(3)	♣8
♦A(5)	♦3	♦10(4)	♦K
♦5(6)	♦4	♦6	♦7
♠5	♣10	♣J	♣3
♦8	♣6	♦2	♦Q(7)
♥7(8)	♣3	♣6	♣9
♥1]	♥K	♥3	♥6
♥Q	♥2	♥4	♥A(9)
			♥J(10

1. The correct opening, from the point containing two lower honors, retaining the diamond tenace for reentry and control.

2. The 3 of spades might be an alternate play, making possible a third spade trick if East plays an honor. A more probable result, however, would be the forcing of the spade Ace with the 6 or 7.

3. Properly overtaking to obtain as many leads as possible through the strong hand.

4. A very bad lead. East is here in position to count the hands. He knows that South holds two spades, four clubs, four or five diamonds, at most probably four (if West held five diamonds and South only three he would have opened that suit) and, therefore, three or two hearts. He cannot hope to establish his four hearts, however, as he only has one entry and that lead may kill his partner's Queen. His choice of a diamond is therefore correct. The 10 or the J, however, should not be led without the next long card (9 or 10) except where partner is marked with at least strength in the suit or the only chance is to hold the lead with the Jack or 10. The correct lead is the diamond 6, which would destroy any chance of South to go out.

5. Although holding off would defeat South, the Ace is the correct play, as South's clubs are now apparently established. East may have led from Q 10 9 of diamonds and should at least hold the nine.

6. Still under the influence of South's misleading play. At this point, however, any other lead is also fatal.

7. It is apparent that East has only three diamonds; otherwise he would surely have led fourth best originally.

8. The squeeze begins to work.

9. South still has a guess, as East might have heart Queen but South (seeing the heart 10 fall) decides that West did not use what would have been a very beautiful series of three cards.

10. At this point, East and West conceded the balance of the tricks, South making four-odd. The unfortunate West hand is now forced to lead go the top diamond or his last card in spades.

I have gone more fully into the analysis of this hand to illustrate my favorite contention that the play of a hand by an expert is like a surgical operation—not the slightest precaution is neglected and every possibility of complications, however remote, is taken into account. At least such is the theory.

THE WORLD-WIDE CONTRACT TOURNAMENT.

A Duplicate Contract Bridge Tournament in which at least one million Bridge players are expected to participate will be held January 20, 1932, at 8:01 p. m., New York time, according to an announcement by the National Bridge Association. The terms and conditions under which this tournament will be held are unique.

The tournament will be played in New York at 8:01 p. m., on January 20, 1932, and at the same moment in all parts of the world although the hour will be different to coincide with time change. Even the date will change in different parts of the world. Players in Manila, for example, will be playing the hands at 1:01 a. m. on Wednesday, January 21. London and Paris will be playing at 1:01 a. m. on Thursday, January 21, while in Calcutta it will be necessary for Bridge enthusiasts to arise before 4:31 a. m. on January 21, although the games will start at precisely the same instant in all parts of the world.

The hands will be selected and the scores determined by Mr. and Mrs. Ely Culbertson in collaboration with Baron Waldemar von Zedtwitz and Theodore A. Lightner, all members of the Bridge World Championship Team, the world's greatest team-of-four. Each hand will be sealed and the contents known only to the members of the committee. The pars will be determined by the committee and carefully guarded until international announcement is made following the play of the hands.

The hands will be sent out well in advance of the date of the contest. It will be held by local depositors to be turned over to game managers and local committees a few moments before play begins, upon presentation of credentials establishing right to receive them. Every possible precaution will be taken to protect the purity of play and its results. No member of The Bridge World staff or their close associates will be permitted to compete for the prizes.

Many of the details of the tournament including the rules and regulations for the scoring and submission of results for the determination of the International Champion are still under advisement but the following points are clear:

1. The unit of competition will be a game of sixteen sealed hands or boards to be played at sixteen tables by sixty-four players. More players in multiples of four may participate in games conducted by the same captains in which event additional sets of sixteen hands will be necessary.

2. Play in smaller units will be permitted under special conditions permission for which will be granted upon application, but no less than four tables of sixteen players will be permitted in any event.

3. Local contests will be under the managership of a Captain appointed by The National Bridge Association.

4. Laws of The Whist Club, New York, with only such additions as the character of the contest demands, will prevail.

5. State, district and local tournaments may be organized by responsible committees but individually conducted games under authorized Game Captains apart from such tournaments, will be authorized wherever requests are made for them and approved. There will be no exclusive rights in any city or state.

6. Application for appointment as local Game Captains may be made by anyone, but before appointment is made evidence of ability to manage a game must be submitted to the International Tournament Committee of The National Bridge Association together with suitable local references, if the applicant is unknown to the committee.

7. No charge whatever will be made for appointment of local Game Captains and their associates and no commission or fees whatever will be paid to Game Captains by The National Bridge Association. Game Captains have no financial responsibilities beyond the payment of local expenses, the collection of entrance fees and the payment to The National Bridge Association of the required portion.

8. Entrance fees in the United States will be $2.00 per person (the same fee in foreign countries on the basis of foreign exchange); one-half to be retained by the Captain and his associates for whatever purpose they may determine, and one-half to The National Bridge Association to meet the enormous expense incident to the organization and promotion of this gigantic event.

9. Wherever possible, a local newspaper will be selected as the depository for the hands previous to the hour of play and newspapers desiring to do so may promote local tournaments for cups and other prizes, each game however, being under the direction of a captain appointed directly by the International Tournament Committee of The National Bridge Association.

10. Although the hands are to be played in Duplicate, a method has been devised, and a patent applied for by Ely Culbertson, for the elimination of Duplicate boards, making it possible to play in the ordinary, stacking the tricks as in a rubber game. This will not only eliminate any possibility of a hand being fouled through error during play but will also make it possible for those who have never played Duplicate before to participate without additional material strain from unfamiliarity with Duplicate methods.

The enormous possibilities of this contest are apparent. The methods to be employed in the conduct of the games, the arrangement of the hands, the organization of national, state, city and district tournaments can and undoubtedly will be utilized by The National Bridge Association in the promotion of annual events of a similar nature.

The number and kind of international prizes have not been definitely determined beyond the fact that four cups, The Grand International Prize, carrying with them the title of "World's Champion," will be given by Mr. and Mrs. Ely Culbertson for North-South and East-West pairs.

Those who are interested in applying for appointment as Game Captains are advised to do so at once. In every case where there are more applicants than it is deemed wise to appoint, precedence will be given first to members of The National Bridge Association, and second, to the earliest applicants, who will then be appointed representatives of The National Bridge Association, Inc. These Game Captains, be they Bridge teachers or business men, club men and club women, or those interested in charity, will in turn appoint their associates, forming a committee for the promotion of each game.

TODAY'S POINTER.

"Preference" Is Not a Raise.

When the Opening Hand has bid two suits and the player on his left passes, the Responding Hand is often forced to show "preference" by selecting the suit which he can best support. Such "preference" is of the nature of Forced response and is not a free Raise.

With equal trump length in each suit (3 and 3 for instance) prefer, as a rule, the first bid suit. With greater length in one but strength in the other suit (4 3 2 or K 2) prefer the longest suit.

When the Opening Hand, however, bids a lower ranking suit first and a higher ranking suit subsequently, a decided preference should be given to the former and at the price of increase in contract.

For instance:

The Opening Hand
One diamond and later two spades
The Responding Hand
Spades	10 9 8
Hearts	Q J 8 5
Diamonds	4 3 2
Clubs	7 6 4

should bid three diamonds.

It is obvious that the Opening Hand would not deliberately place partner in this position if he were not prepared to play the hand at a possibly increased contract.

Jane Corbin INTERPRETS the MODE

New York, Aug. 17.

PUT them away! Sprinkle 'em all with sachet, shed a furtive tear at their passing, tie them with pale mauve ribbons, lay the package tenderly in the dim and distant part of your attic, dry your eyes, and forget them. All things pass, and these, like man's fickleness in springtime, most quickly of all.

Yet, like man's reawakened interest and love, they may once more attain significance and importance, so destroy them not—things redolent of such happy hours and pleasant pursuits will surely bloom again.

"What will—what will?" sez you, all agog and breathless and glad to hear that it isn't necessary to tear up old love letters after all. Only, my deahs, I didn't happen to be talking about old love letters. I was talking about the pastel-tinted sleeveless, linen and cotton and eyelet embroidered blouses that come back to us with the coming of every summer.

These summer blouses are OUT. You just can't wear them any more! The minute you put on one of the adorable new autumn suits you have to change your type of blouse, and the summer ones won't do at all. Their lines aren't right, their colors aren't right and their fabrics aren't right. But it doesn't matter, for we have our autumn blouses instead.

The newest kind of blouse this time of the year is the dark blouse—yes, just that, of dark blue or dark red or dark green, in a shade harmonizing with your new suit but several shades darker than that, and usually of heavy, not too lustrous satin. And, as light furs are used much more than dark ones to trim these suits, the effect is stunning. And for change, you must have several white blouses, all long sleeved, which the dark ones needn't be, and all exquisitely and oddly tucked and incrusted.

* * * *

If you're one of these lovely ladies who just can't decide whether a chiffon evening frock would be more lovely than a lace one, or vice versa, the graceful gown I have sketched for you today, from Premet, may suggest the answer. For palest blue chiffon has been combined with lace of the exactly same shade very charmingly. The one-piece gown has a distinct tunic effect because of the long, loose and even peplum, and the scarf, on one side only, has a deep band of lace appliqued on the end.

* * * *

Lace, especially when combined with chiffon or georgette in the same color, is decidedly smart, and very becoming, too.

* * * *

And, of course, jewelry with such a lovely gown, or any evening clothes for that matter, must be smart. A pair of bracelets, like the ones illustrated today, would be so-o-o lovely with evening things! They are flat disks of crystal, one transparent and one opaque.

Come on, now—out loud THREE TIMES! Just saying the Fashion French words out loud three times apiece in the leaflet your own Dahray has prepared for you this week, and which you may have by sending your stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Dare Department of The Post will give you the perfect French accent of the smartest and most fashionable women in the world. And what's more, you'll know what each word means, because the definition given for each word is the last-minute and most complete one! Better hurry now for your Complete French Lesson at a Glance.

Dare's weekly fashion letter is of interest to women. Read it in The Sunday Post.

What Today Means to You

"LEO."

IF AUGUST 18 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 8:45 a. m. to 11 a. m., and 6:30 p. m. to 10 p. m. The danger periods are from noon to 2:30 p. m., from 5 p. m. to 6 p. m. and 10:45 p. m. to 11:30 p. m.

Explosive influences will be in force on August 18, but the results will be of a constructive, and not a destructive, nature. Timidity will be supplanted by self-confidence and nerve. Hopelessness will be replaced by enthusiasm and faith.

The astrological aspects are favorable for children born on this August 18—a charitable, sympathetic, personality will be given them. They will be deep thinkers, arduous workers, and born philosophers. They will always appear old for their years, and will prefer the companionship of their seniors.

Born on August 18, you have a very austere nature, predominated by a very intelligent brain. You are a convincing person, but your personality is not a seductive or an enticing one. Those who appreciate you, and enjoy you, are truly intellectual men and women, who can meet you on a mental plane. You need humanizing in order to get along with the common run of man. It is difficult for you to understand your fellow beings who exist on an emotional or a material plane. You have no tolerance for ignorance, or the ignorant, and you are not willing to waste your time on people who do not interest you, or from whom you can not reap some spiritual or mental stimulation.

Your mind has an open door, and you are always willing to be shown where you are in the wrong. You try to overcome prejudices, and to be fair in your criticisms. Your energy and your desire to excel will carry you far. When you make up your mind to carry out a purpose in life, you nearly always succeed. You expect a great deal from others, and manifest a stubborn desire to make others conform to your requirements. Your moral nature is very strong, and you fight to maintain your ideals.

When physically run down, your nerves will suffer first. You need more sleep than the average person in order to keep fit.

Successful People Born August 18.

1. Seth Thomas, manufacturer, clock factory.
2. Marshall Field, merchant.
3. Robley D. Evans, "Fighting Bob," naval officer.
4. James H. Hyslop, phychologist and educator.
5. George S. Fullerton, psychologist.
6. Mark W. Harrington, astronomer.

GARDENS

ANSWERS TO INQUIRIES.

PLEASE tell me what to do to rid my chrysanthemums of insects? These plants get sun only a portion of the day. MARGARET T.

Spray the terminal shoots with any nicotine solution or dust them with powdered tobacco. If you use the latter, apply it immediately after watering the plants.

I have a number of beautiful roses. Lately I notice the leaves are turning yellow and that brown spots are appearing. I can find no insects on the buds or leaves. BERYL De C.

Spray your pyrethrums with Bordeaux mixture. Make several applications ten days apart. Try nicotine solution on your rosebush and also give it an application of liquid manure. Keep both varieties well watered.

Please tell me the name of the inclosed flower and leaf. E. M. B.

They resemble the flower and leaf of the crepe myrtle.

I have a wistaria 7 years old which has never bloomed. Now I have to transplant it. Must I prune it about one-third and when would you advise me to move it?
MRS. A. K.

Transplant your wistaria in the fall and prune it about one-third at the time you uproot it.

I want to start a rock garden this fall. Please tell me some of the hardier and more desirable of some of the so-called "rock plants."
MRS. STELLE R.

Most of the low-growing perennials are adaptable to this use, although care must be taken to use forms which are not too spreading. Achillea, alyssum (saxatile compactum), arabis, aubrietia, chieranthus, dianthus, helianthemum and lychnis are all well suited for rock garden use.

I am planning a rose garden. Where should I place it and when should I plant it?
A NEW PROPERTY OWNER.

Choose a well-drained, sunny spot for your rose garden. It may be planted either in the early fall or the spring, so as to give the plants a chance to become established before the winter or before too hot weather.

I have to add some trees to my grounds this fall and because of lack of money must buy small trees and do the work of planting myself. When would you advise me to start?
HAROLD J.

I have a very old and very matted honeysuckle. Could I prune it at this time? It will have to be cut almost to the roots. HELEN B. K.

Yes.

POLICE MAKE CHECK ON NIGHT CLUB GIRLS

Full Information Is Sought by Mulrooney for Use in War on Gangsters.

New York, Aug. 17 (A.P.).—Police moved to tighten the web of evidence about New York's lawbreakers today as officials up-State sent two of Jack Diamond's followers to Dannemora Prison.

A roster of women employes of night clubs was being compiled under direction of Commissioner Edward P. Mulrooney, who wants to have ready available all essential information about them in event dance halls and cabarets become the scenes of disorders.

Meanwhile, officers believed they gradually were closing in on six men responsible for the slayings of Charles Sinnelli and Charles Maturo, proprietors of the Green Cottage Inn in Brooklyn, and Joseph Barberi, a former pugilist who acted as their bouncer.

Harry Klein and John Scaccio were the Diamond men sent to prison. Klein pleaded guilty at Catskill to grand larceny in the theft of an automobile and was sentenced to two and one-half to five years. Scaccio several days ago was given a fifteen-year sentence for attacking Grover Parks, Cairo truckman.

They brought to four the number of members of the Diamond gang who have lost, at least temporarily, skirmishes with the law. Diamond himself was sentenced to four years' imprisonment and fined $11,000 by Federal court last week for a prohibition law violation. Paul Quattrochio, tried with him, received a two-year term and $5,000 fine.

Although members of the Walter B. Mezick family declined to accept the theory, police announced they believed the wealthy real estate dealer of Queens, found dead last night with his throat cut, had committed suicide. The Queens district attorney continued open-minded, ready to follow any tip that might indicate foul play.

Investigation into the triple killing at Green Cottage Inn has brought about a changed version of the slayings since Thursday. Police today entertained the belief the six killers entered the Inn under the guise of law officers and took the three victims downstairs, where they mutilated them with broken bottles and other pieces of jagged glass before killing them.

The affair, police say, was an act of vengeance by relatives of admirers of three girls alleged to have been lured to the Inn and mistreated. Although the names of the killers were not known, police said they had a good description of them.

Reserve Officer Leaps 1,500 Feet to Safety

Mount Clemens, Mich., Aug. 17 (A.P.).—Lieut. William F. Day, jr., 22, aerial reserve officer at Selfridge Field, was forced to leap with his parachute at 1,500 feet this morning when his plane went into a spin. He landed unhurt on the bank of the Clinton River.

MEXICAN CONVENTION ON DAMAGES EXPIRES

tioning thus far were ratified and proclaimed in 1923. They were extended for two years on two occasions.

Whether the conventions will be extended this time—that could be done even though the dates of expiration had passed, by putting in a retroactive clause—or whether new conventions will have to be drawn up remains to be seen.

There have been reports that the Mexican government was going to insist on several modifications in the conventions this time. This would mean two new conventions. In any event, officials here express confidence that a satisfactory arrangement for continuing the settlement of claims will be reached between the two neighboring republics.

The commission that is about to go out of existence recently broke up when Fred K. Nielsen, the American commissioner, told the others, Fernandez MacGregor, of Mexico, and Dr. Horacio F. Alfaro, presiding commissioner, of Panama, that they should not decide American claims adversely without consulting him.

Immediately after this Mexican newspapers carried stories to the effect that Mr. Nielsen, one of the most able international lawyers in the world, was persona nongrata with the Mexican government. This, however, has never been stated by the government itself.

Mr. Nielsen was the second American lawyer to encounter difficulties on the special commission, his predecessor, Ernest P. Perry, also having been described as persona nongrata to Mexico.

Mr. Nielsen soon will go to Egypt, where he will seek to arbitrate the case of an American named Salem who has a claim against the Egyptian government.

Mexico City, Aug. 17 (A.P.).—Foreign Secretary Genaro Estrada refused to comment today on the expiration of the Mexican-American special claims convention or on negotiations being made to renew the general claims convention, which expires August 30.

The American Embassy likewise declined to discuss the subject, although it is known Ambassador Reuben J. Clark and Secretary Estrada have held a number of conferences in regard to it.

ABOUT THE SHOWSHOPS

With DON B. REED

AN early caller yesterday was Mr. Steve Cochran of the National Theater, if identification be needed, who dropped in to ask this column to remind season subscribers at the National to get in line for the coming season. According to the genial Mr. Cochran, season ticket buying at the National has increased steadily with the years and many prominent residents of the Capital are on his list of those who like the same seats each week. Requests for this year's blocks of seats must be received by the house before September 5, in order to have everything in shipshape order for the opening on September 14 of "Peter Flies High," with that brilliant young star, Glenn Hunter. The line forms at the right.

This man Crull, who manages the Fox, apparently is going to make his theater the mecca for all young Washington. Not content with his all-Washington revue which opens Friday as part of the regular program, a breathless courier from F street brings in a notice to the effect that a Fox Theater Military Band composed of boys from 7 to 18 years of age, is in the offing. Not very far in the offing either, for the first meeting will be held at the theater Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock. Capt. J. B. McKenzie, of Newark, N. J., has been secured to drill the youngsters and will fly to Washington each Friday to be on hand for rehearsals. Youngsters who have instruments are requested to bring them along and instruction will be free. After about five weeks Capt. McKenzie hopes to have the band whipped into shape for a public performance as part of the theater program.

And if you've noticed an eager young man leaning out of an airplane, tossing balloons into the air advertising the fact that "Dirigible" is the attraction at RKO-Keith's, it is Leonard Meakin, son of Hardie Meakin, RKO manager. And does he love to fly!

While on the subject of RKO-Keith's, the second of a series of "Strange As It Seems" cartoons by John Hix, in color, will be offered there beginning Friday. Mr. Hix, whose daily cartoons are a feature in the sports section of the Washington Post, has contributed a set of original drawings to the RKO management and these will be on display in the lobby while the film is on the screen.

David Legum, of 1300 Harvard street northwest, a former Tech high school student and the son of Jacob Legum, is returning to Washington for a week's stay beginning Friday as a member of the Hollywood Collegians, musical organization in the Fanchon & Marco unit playing at the Fox. Its a wonder Messrs. Crull, Hurford et al wouldn't line up a little local talent now and then.

When a baseball player goes along with a .350 batting average, he is considered a star and if a salesman puts over a deal with 50 per cent of those on whom he calls, he's a wizard. All which leads up to the point that critics of the motion picture industry probably do not rate as high in their average daily tasks as the pictures which they pick to pieces. The Motion Picture Herald's latest issue reveals that of all the photoplays released in the first six months of 1931, 85 per cent were recommended by one or more of five important national organizations which have developed a systematic preview service. The organizations are the General Federation of Women's Clubs; the International Federation of Catholic Alumnae; the National Society of Daughters of the American Revolution; the Los Angeles Women's University Club and the Y. M. C. A. National Association. It would seem these five cover most of the factions interested in motion pictures and the industry can hardly be accused of disrupting the moral life of any community when 85 per cent of its product is good enough to be recommended by one of the five. "It must be that good pictures are on the increase for we found an average of almost 20 a month" says the report of the Federation of Women's Clubs. Which is just what we thought, too.

Consideration is being given at the RKO home office in New York to a plan whereby three acts of vaudeville and a lengthy stage show similar to units now used by Loew and Publix would be substituted in 175 RKO houses for the present straight run-of-acts program now in vogue at the vaudeville-picture houses. S. L. "Roxy" Rothafel is supervising RKO acts now and his verdict on the scheme will probably decide the RKO future policy.

Now if I only had one of those ice cream cones Maxine Doyle used to bring Nelson Bell, I might be able to finish this column.

P. S.—The goldfish have been fed.

Budget Bureau Advised Of Department Balances

(Associated Press.)

The Budget Bureau found out yesterday through reports from Cabinet members just how much money the Government has to pay its expenses this year. As soon as Director Roop returns from a vacation, later this week, bureau experts will have ready for his approval a compilation showing whether the estimates are more or less than indicated on July 1.

At that time President Hoover told department heads that their indicated expenditures were greater than the $4,219,950,000 actually spent in the last fiscal year. He asked that they look over the figures again and eliminate or postpone all unnecessary disbursements.

Philadelphia, Aug. 17 (A.P.).—A partial inventory of the estate of Dr. Richard A. F. Penrose, jr., noted geologist, and brother of the late United States Senator Boies Penrose, was filed today in the register of wills office here, listing cash of $464,136.

Dr. Penrose's total estate is expected to reach more than $1,000,000, the bulk of which is to be divided under terms of his will, recently probated, between the American Philosophical Society and the Geological Society of America.

RESINOL HEALS SEVERE CASE OF PILES

"A few years ago my niece was ill and after being in bed several months she developed a very bad case of piles. As nothing she had used seemed to help her I advised Resinol Ointment which I had with me. After a few applications she was greatly relieved and before long was entirely healed." (Signed) Mrs. B Storland, 319 Etna St., St. Paul, Minn.

It is unnecessary to suffer from itching, bleeding, painful piles when Resinol Ointment gives such immediate relief. Many women use it regularly to relieve local itching caused by acid or irritating secretions. Free sample on request. Resinol, Dept. 91, Balto., Md. Sold by all druggists.

New Wharf Blast Nipped in Georgia

Brunswick, Ga., Aug. 17 (A.P.).—Brunswick police today had uncovered an apparent plot to destroy wharves of both the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad and the Southern Railway System here by explosions and fire.

Yesterday, 74 sticks of dynamite, placed so as to explode at intervals and ignite gasoline nearby, were found on the Coast Line docks. When one exploded prematurely investigation was begun and led to discovery today of gasoline on the Southern's wharves.

Fifteen thousand barrels of rosin were stored on the Coast Line docks and a like amount on those of the Southern while the Downing Company's wharves between them held approximately 75,000 barrels.

Officers said they have learned three unidentified white men were seen in the vicinity Sunday and also announced they have discovered the source of the dynamite and are tracing cans that contained gasoline found on the docks. No theory has been advanced as to a motive.

WHEN a substitute claims to be "just like Kotex," ask where it is made. How. By whom.
You will find the claim "like Kotex" usually means the pad merely looks like Kotex. That's not enough, when health is involved, as it is in your choice of sanitary protection. Demand the hygiene of Kotex. The absolute purity of Kotex.
There's one way to be sure. Get genuine Kotex . . . accept no substitute of whose makers you know nothing. Kotex is the world's standard. Hospitals used over ten million pads last year. It is made with hospital care and cleanliness.

TUESDAY AUGUST 18, 1931 SPORTS

HADLEY SEEKS TO SWEEP SERIES FOR NATS TODAY

This MORNING with SHIRLEY L. POVICH

THE Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching has chosen with rare good vision another Sunday night when news is dull to release to the sports pages another of its high-powered bulletins, this time called its yearly report, which interrupts the serenity of football thought to inquire "Upon what theory are big college football stadiums exempt from taxation?"

The foundation is very careful not to go out on a limb urging in so many words a levy on the gate receipts at college football games, but it asks so many leading questions in its report that there is no doubt as to its position in the matter.

In all the welter of overemphasis controversy that has followed in the wake of each football season for the past five years, the game has escaped the suggestion that the stadiums or the gate receipts be taxed. That idea has remained for the Carnegie Foundation alone, self-conceived critic of the sport, to promote.

Earnings Are Sin

"A stadium like the Yale Bowl or the one recently erected at South Bend (Notre Dame) is used merely for public shows," said Henry Smith Pritchett, president of the foundation, which issued its famous "Bulletin 23" on college athletic systems two years ago. "These plants are tremendous earners of money. Are they exempt from taxation and, if so, upon what theory? Will not the various States insist (and rightly so) upon taxing money earning agencies of this description?"

That is the indictment against the big stadium. This column, looking for a specific count, and disagreeing that a football game is just a public show, discovers that the meat of the accusation is in the plaint that "these plants are tremendous earners of money." That, apparently, is the sin.

Because football has proven so tremendously popular with the fans of the Nation, it is being held against the colleges. Because the institutions have been forced to enlarge the seating capacity of their fields to care for the thousands of reservations of folks who want to see the game, they should be liable to taxation, according to the foundation. The Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching seems to have gone a long way to get out another report.

The Winning Pitcher

As sometimes happens, a subscriber writes to the baseball editor of this paper to settle a bet.

He gives a hypothetical case. "Suppose," he says, "Marberry was pitching against the Athletics and the score was 3 to 2, in favor of Washington. Marberry is hurt in the third inning and the score is the same. He is relieved by Brown and there is no more scoring for the remainder of the game. Who is the winning pitcher?"

He lost his bet. Brown, not Marberry is the winning pitcher. The scoring rules of the American League state that a pitcher can not be credited with a victory if he goes into the game with his team on the long end of the score, unless the score is tied later or the opposing club goes into the lead, but the rule is qualified with the reservation that a starting pitcher must work four full innings before he can receive credit for the game.

There is another qualification to the rule giving the scorer abitrary power to credit a pitcher with a victory where he has worked less than four innings, if his team should have piled up such a huge lead that the relieving pitcher faces little, if any, responsibility.

Reds Upset Robins Twice in Twin Bill

Brooklyn, Aug. 17 (A.P.).—The Cincinnati Reds made their last appearance of the season at Ebbets' field today and won a double-header from the Brooklyn Robins to even the series. The scores were, 4 to 1 and 8 to 3.

The first game was a pitchers' duel between Bill Clark and Silas Johnson, until the eighth when an error and a hit caused Manager Robinson to send in Relief Pitcher Jack Quinn. Quinn was ineffective and the Reds scored three runs.

The second affair was all Cincinnati as Owen Carroll held the Robins to six hits and his teammates drove Babe Phelps from the mound with a five-run attack in the third inning.

Mrs. Moody Wins in 21 Minutes

Betty Nuthall, Other Stars Also Advance in National Play.

By GAYLE TALBOT.

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 17 (A.P.).—The Moodys, the Nuthalls and the Jacobs of the women's tennis world had little, if any, difficulty sailing through the opening round of the forty-fourth annual women's national championship at Forest Hills today.

Fifteen domestic and foreign seeded stars and as many lesser lights polished off their preliminary opposition during the afternoon, cutting the field to 32 players for second round tomorrow. There was only a smattering of three-set matches, all except one of the seeded entries blasting their rivals aside in the regulation two sets.

Baroness Levi, Lone Seeded Player, Beaten.

The lone seeded player to fall by the wayside was the Baroness Giacomo Levi, of Rome and New York, who lost to Virginia Hilleary, of Philadelphia, in the day's closing match on the center court, 6—3, 6—4. Although she was unseeded for the present tournament, Miss Hilleary is at present ranked No. 4 in America and her victory scarcely could be classified as an upset.

Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, six-time champion and pronounced favorite to lift the crown now worn by Betty Nuthall, of England, led the parade through the first round with a 6—0, 6—0 triumph over Edith Sigourney, of Boston. Without once losing her perfect poise or extending herself unduly, Queen Helen the First disposed of her less famed rival in the remarkably quick time of 21 minutes.

Only slightly less impressive was the 6—2, 6—1 victory scored by Miss Nuthall over Mrs. B. F. Stenz, of Garden City. The champion appeared to be experimenting with her game and many of her drives went wild, but when she buckled down to do her best she piled up points with monotonous regularity. Her best scoring weapon was her backhand, which repeatedly caught Mrs. Stenz standing still and watching the ball whizz past.

Helen Jacobs, California's second bid for the title, chopped her way to an easy victory over Mae Ceurvorst, of Wichita, Kans., in the opening match on the center court. The scores, 6—2, 6—2, did not reflect the Coast star's superiority.

Four Advance, Losing Only One Game.

Four players, including two members of the invading British contingent, advanced with the loss of only one game. Mrs. L. A. Harper, of Oakland, Calif., No. 1 in the present American ranking, turned back Olga Kallos, of Norwalk, Conn., 6—1, 6—0.

Red Sox Win, 3-2; Pound Caraway Out

Chicago, Aug. 17 (A.P.).—Jack Russell and Bob Weiland shared honors of a stirring pitchers' battle today, but Pat Caraway's early ineffectiveness was fatal to the White Sox, and Boston took the final of the series, 3 to 2. It was their third win in the four games and enabled them to tie Chicago for sixth position.

Caraway was blasted from the mound in the second before anyone was out and Weiland went in to retire the next twenty batters in order. But Russell was seldom in trouble and pulled through to win.

SHIELDS AND DOEG HARD PRESSED

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 17 (A.P.).—The most threatening uprising of the current campaign in men's tennis was checked today by the Nation's top-ranking players, Champion Johnny Doeg and Francis X. Shields, runner-up in last year's title play and member of the 1931 Davis Cup forces.

The pair, top seeded in the historic Newport Casino play, had to fight to the last ditch before gaining the third round by scoring scanty victories over mediocre opponents.

Doeg had a trying session in overcoming Karl Kamrath, gritty Texan, in an overtime match by 6—3, 3—6, 8—6. Shields, strong enough to advance to the final round of the British championship, was barely able to squeeze Eddie Jacobs, of Baltimore, out of the tourney by a 6—3, 4—6, 6—4 margin.

Doeg's Drives Fail To Daunt Texan.

The blonde and gigantic titlist opened impressively against Kamrath. He burned over his service, but its accuracy failed to daunt the cool Texan, who handled Doeg's drives with such skill he squared the match by taking the second set with seeming ease. Doeg's determined last stand, which he was able to maintain with several timely placements, threatened to break down several times during the fourteen-game battle for the deciding set.

Four other seeded players also gained the third round, as well as the British Davis Cup stars, Frederick J. Perry and G. Patrick Hughes, who, although unseeded, were given favorable positions in the draw. The seeded players to advance were George Lott, Ellsworth Vines, Sidney B. Wood and Wilmer Allison.

McLean Eliminated By Bryon Grant.

Lott accounted for Eddie Yeomans, Washington, D. C., ace, in the first round by the margin of 6—4, 6—2. Yeomans, winning his service in brilliant fashion, kept abreast of the Davis Cup luminary for the major portion of the first set, but wilted once the former Chicagoan unleashed his fiercest drives.

Jack McLean, diminutive former District of Columbia boy champion, sprung a surprise by a first-round victory over the more mature William Casewell, of Dallas, Tex., 6—1, 7—5. McLean, stroking the ball in his classic form, experienced only passing difficulty in eliminating the Texan, but in the second round the steady, perfectly produced backcourt game of the youthful Washingtonian was smothered by Bryan Grant, of Atlanta, 6—2, 6—1. Grant is reputed the steadiest player in big league tennis.

Landers Wins Verdict Over De Angelo

By JACK ESPEY.

AS 2,200 cash customers feasted on an appetizing dish of fighting, Sailor Billy Landers, of Norfolk, won a referee's decision over Frankie "Little Caesar" De Angelo last night in the feature of Fort Washington's 40-round card. The rushing, ripping sailor lad, outweighed 125 to 120, won on the nod of Charlie Short, as efficient and honest an official as the ring knows in this section.

From this scribbler's viewpoint, however, the fight seemed to be Frankie's at the end of the eight sizzling rounds, the last four of which saw the fans on their feet howling with delight. The crowd was divided in its sympathies and as many approved the verdict against the Southeast Italian as those who booed it.

Post's Scoresheet Favors Italian.

On The Post score sheet De Angelo was credited with winning three rounds, with three rounds even and two in favor of Landers. It appeared to this reporter that Frankie offset the sailor's superior punching with a scintillating exhibition of boxing and speed.

Without question, at any rate, the bout was hard fought, one of the most exciting that has graced the nearby Army post arena this season. There were no knockdowns and hardly any blood was spilled, but from start to finish there always was the possibility of a knockout lurking about each fighter.

Landers, whom local fans hailed popularly when he stopped the veteran Eddie Buell in six rounds two months ago, was expected to do the rocking and socking and did not fail altogether. He clipped Frankie with a couple of murderous punches in the very first round.

De Angelo Resumes Boxing Tactics.

De Angelo did not fully recover from those blows until the third round, when he made Billy look like a novice, slipping Landers' intended haymakers and countering with stiff rights to the head and body. During the second, Frankie had to backpedal plenty to allow himself time to freshen up.

Landers rushed out in the fourth, throwing everything he had into the fight, and caught Frankie in a corner, where he pounded him for fully 30 seconds without a return. Several of these wallops Frankie blocked cleverly, but several found their way to the Italian's forehead and mouth.

The fifth saw De Angelo change from his dancing, skipping style to a flat-footed boring-in attack, which was just to the Sailor's liking. They slugged it out for the entire round and brought the spectators to their feet in an uproar, rocking one another with wild right-hand uppercuts.

But the slugging game was not the most effective for De Angelo, and he resumed boxing in the sixth. However, with Landers crowding him he was forced into many clinches, where he had to resort to a right-hand punch about the sides. Landers pushed him back on several occasions and jolted him with short lefts to the chin.

Harry "Kid" Groves won a decision over Pepper Young, Lander's stablemate in the eight-round semifinal, but the District welter king would have obliged the crowd more by losing, judging from the boos that followed Jimmy Lake's announce-

SAFE AT THIRD IN DEPARTMENTAL TITLE GAME

Freddy Noone, Repair Shop outfielder, is pictured apparently out at third with his foot resting on the ankle of Third Baseman Povich, but the throw from the catcher was late and Noone had time to touch the bag in yesterday's Commerce-Repair Shop game for the Departmental title. He advanced on a passed ball. Povich was spiked on the play. Commerce won, 4-2. (Story on page 13.)

YANKS LOSE TO SORRELL OF TIGERS

Alexander, Johnson Batting Heroes in 8-2 Victory.

DETROIT, Aug. 17 (A.P.).—Taking advantage of most of their ten hits off Ed Wells, the Detroit Tigers gave the New York Yankees an 8-to-2 trimming in the third game of their series today.

Vic Sorrell held the Yanks to seven hits, three of which produced a run in the fourth and two more another run in the fifth. Dale Alexander's bat, which has been rather idle of late, pounded out two doubles and a single in three times at the plate, while Roy Johnson connected with one of Wells' offerings for a home run.

A. A. Umpire Is Freed On Charge of Assault

Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 17 (A.P.).—Charges of assault and battery against Larry Goetz, Milwaukee, American Association umpire, were dismissed today in Municipal Court by Judge Clifford, who ruled that evidence in the case was contradictory.

The charges against Goetz were filed Saturday by G. K. Pinkerton, Columbus, following a game between Columbus and Kansas City, during which pop bottles were hurled at Goetz by the irate fans. Pinkerton charged that Goetz attacked him after leaving the ball park.

Walker Knocks Out Gagnon in 37 Seconds

Liska's Arm Fails Again; Sent Here

By MAURICE O. SHEVLIN
(Baseball Writer, St. Louis Globe-Democrat).

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 17.—Manager Walter Johnson and his charges, peeved at being held over here until tomorrow, with today an off-day due to the Monday game moved up and made part of yesterday's double-header, will be out for blood in the series ender. Irving Hadley is expected to do the Nat pitching tomorrow and promises to make it four in a row over the Browns, with Skipper Bill Killefer's mount bet more or less problematical.

In view of the poor start of this Western trip in Chicago, when the Nats lost three out of four, the stand in St. Louis has bolstered their hopes to a high pitch and they now are confident that they will end their tour with a good record after all. Should they cop tomorrow, it will put them two games over the .500 mark for the trip, with prospects good of taking the odd game in both Cleveland and Detroit.

Today was not a total loss, as the Nats extended their second-place margin to five games, thanks to a beating handed New York by the Tigers.

Liska Ordered Home Again.

Pitcher Ad Liska is having troubles again and this morning was told to pack up and go to Washington and discuss his case with President Clark Griffith. This time the subway ball hurler probably will leave the team for the rest of the season. He surely has been having a run of tough luck. Reporting at the Biloxi training camp, Liska's salary wing became sore as soon as he started putting something on the ball. After resting the flipper for some time, he went to a muscle doctor at Youngstown and thought he was cured.

After laying off for the prescribed time, however, his arm became sore again just as he started to use it. Finally, he was allowed to go to Dwight, Nebr., to have a specialist who cured him in 1927, work on his wing. Again, Ad thought he was cured, but soon found out differently. It finally was decided that rest was his only hope and he went home and did not use the arm for a month. Then he started all over again and his name was recently put back on the pay roll after he reported and gave indications that he soon would be ready to pitch again.

Admits Failure To Johnson.

Liska made his debut of the season in the last series in Chicago, hurling but one frame in a relief role, and that, it seems, was enough to knock him out of kelter again. This morning he admitted to Manager Johnson that his whip was in bad shape again, and his orders to return home were the natural result.

It is unfortunate both for Liska and for the Nats. The injury may take away his best bet as a money maker, while it robs the Washington Club of a flinger who has given indications of being a winner. It is to be hoped that the rest over the remainder of the season and through the winter will be sufficient to bring Ad back to the races again next spring.

First Baseman Joe Judge is ready to get back in the game, but he is finding Rookie Joe Kuhel quite a bar. Just before the Chicago series ended Johnson stated that he thought he would use the veteran in the set in St. Louis. But Kuhel immediately started hitting and has been doing so ever since. And, needless to say, as long as he keeps on pounding the pill Judge will have to sit on the bench and watch him.

CARDS SPLIT BILL WITH GIANTS

Win Opener, 6-5, But Lose Final, 7-5, on 5-Run Rally in 8th.

NEW YORK, Aug 17 (A.P.).—A five-run rally in the eighth inning of the final game of a double-header gave the New York Giants an even break against the St. Louis Cardinals today. The Cardinals won the opener 6-5 while the Giants took the nightcap 7-5.

Paul Derringer had the Giants well in hand in the second game until he blew up in the eighth, Terry starting the rally with a home run and finishing it by grounding out. A four-run rally in the same inning decided the first game, although the Giants made a bid by counting three times in the ninth. Bottomley and Hafey hit home runs in the Cardinals' big inning.

Travis Jackson was forced out of the game in the fifth inning of the second game with a broken nose, received when he was hit by Gelbert's drive.

Rider Also Wins With Dodgson, at 8 to 1, in Third Race.

SARATOGA SPRINGS RACE TRACK, N. Y., Aug. 17 (A.P.).—Jockey Eugene James today showed New York turf followers the kind of riding that made him a sensation in the West and South.

After piloting Dodgson, an 8-to-1 shot, home in the third race, the boy gave the Brookmeade Stable's Jubilate, a 30-to-1 hazard, a great ride to win the Catskill, a historic claiming stake which featured the program. Jubilate, which won a few days ago in cheaper company at a good price, ran the seven furlongs in 1:24 to beat a smart field and collected $3,800 for his owner.

Masked Ball, from the W. R. Coe Stable, led until a few feet of the finish, and was beaten a nose on the line. Follow On, split favorite with Bathorse, was another three lengths away in third place. The start was bad, with Pegg's Pride being left at the post.

Masked Ball rushed into command and led Follow On by a couple of lengths to the head of the stretch. James had Jubilate close to the pace in fourth position. At the stretch turn he brought the long shot around the leaders. Follow On faltered in the final furlong and Jubilate set sail for Masked Ball. In a hard drive, James plied the whip with telling effect and his mount got up in the final strides. Bathorse never was a serious contender.

Matadi, Long Shot,
Hawthorne Winner.

Hawthorne Race Track, Chicago, Aug. 17 (A.P.).—Form players were given a jolt in the Lake Bluff purse at a mile and a sixteenth, feature of Hawthorne's program today, when Matadi, a long shot, won by a nose over Quatre Bras II. Very Well finished third.

Abdel, the heavily-backed favorite, jumped into the lead at the start and opened up a margin of ten lengths by the time the field had gone six furlongs. The pace was too fast and he faded out of the money in the stretch. Matadi paid $23,68 to win.

Jockey Frank Chiavetta got Givanna, public choice, left at the post in the Woodlawn purse at five and one-half furlongs and finished far back of the pacemaker.

Colonial Belle, with Jockey C. Lansdolt up, easily won by one and a half lengths over Porter's Dream and Bryonia. Givanna in her two previous races darted to the front, showed unusual speed and won both events easily.

—Hawthorne Selections—

By J. B. SNODGRASS

HAWTHORNE RACE TRACK, Chicago, Ill., Aug. 17.—A choice field of five sterling routers have accepted the issue in the mile and a sixteenth of the Libertyville Purse, an overnight event, which heads the card at Hawthorne tomorrow. The Kenwood, an allowance affair for juveniles at six furlongs, will support the main attraction, on the interesting eight-race program. The remainder of the card will be contested by the cheaper sort, under claiming conditions.

KARL EITEL, coupled with WHO WIN, as the J. J. Coughlin entry, appears well suited by the conditions and figures to show the way to this small group in the feature. The former was beaten a nose on Saturday at this route and off that effort should hold his opponents safe. BROWN WISDOM, a top-notch sprinter, may falter at the route, but should last to gain the place. The Warm Stable's THE HUNT is on the improve and is favored for the show.

In the Kenwood, third on the card, PENDING has the speed of his nine rivals and is selected to annex the secondary event. The Greentree colorbearer has trained briskly since his last start and in this class will be hard to beat. MADWIND has shown several excellent performances and should force the pace, with CHATTER QUEEN as the show possibility.

FIRST RACE—The usual limit field of juveniles will contest the opening six furlong dash. CURMUDGEON, a recent winner, has all his speed and against this field figures to score. SHAKER LADY has raced with better company and is the one to fear. BRAVE AND BOLD turned in a splendid race recently and figures to share in the purse.

SECOND RACE—A large field of 3-year-olds and upward will face the barrier in the 6½ furlongs of the second. DICK MORRIS, a consistent plater from the Knebelkamp & Morris string, although far down on the list, figures to score if he starts. ALBAZANO and GOLD BET appear best of the others for the remainder of the purse.

FOURTH RACE—PRINCESS PEGGY, a game router from the Audley Farm, is selected to show the way to her five opponents in the 1 1-16 miles of the fourth. The Spanish Prince filly scored easily last start and should repeat. MOUTHPIECE is the contender, with BARNEY SEXTON favored for the show.

SIXTH RACE—At the 1 3-16 miles of the sixth, TIGER FLOWERS, on his recent splendid efforts, is given the call. SEARINGTON turned in a clever performance on Saturday to finish second to Make Believe and should go well here. CABILDO will favor the route and is the show choice.

SEVENTH RACE — Another limit field of platers will be dispatched over the 1 3-16 miles of the seventh, with TOPHATTIE, easy winner last start, selected to gain the honors. DEVON, from the J. J. Greely Stable, which finished behind TOP HATTIE last outing, is accorded the place, with BLACK IVORY best of the others for the minor award.

EIGHTH RACE—In the eighth event, at the 1 1-16 miles route, twelve 3-year-old and up platers will contest the issue. GARNISH, a steady router in the Miss E. Glick string, is favored to outfoot her rivals. SWEEP PAST has shown consitsent form in recent efforts and figures to force the pace. ANNIE REE has VERMICULITE to beat for the show.

The latter made a game closing bid and forced the winner to do her best to the end. MAID OF HONOR made the pace, but weakened slightly in the last furlong after racing HARRY KUHNS into submission. The latter raced well for five furlongs, then tired. The others were outpaced.

NEGRO NINES PLAY HERE SATURDAY

N. Y. Black Yanks to Meet Bacharachs in Stadium.

BIG-TIME colored baseball will invade Washington Saturday when the New York Black Yankees and the Bacharach Giants clash at 3 p. m. in Griffith Stadium. The teams are two of the strongest coored nines in the East and the fur should fly when they tangle.

The Yankees are bringing a team composed of such stars as "Fat" Jenkins, "Clint" Thomas, Larry Brown and William Bell here for the game. Jenkins is reputedly the fastest man in colored professional ranks, while Bell led the Cuban National League in pitching from 1927 to 1930, inclusive. The New York aggregation is managed by Johnny Lloyd, oldtime shortstop, who formerly piloted the Bacharach team.

Winters, D. C. Pitcher With Bacharachs.

The Bacharachs will bring a local boy to town in the person of "Nick" Winters, a southpaw pitcher. Winters picked up some pointers on pitching by watching "Nick" Altrock when not running errands at the local ball park, where he was employed as messenger. In "King" Tutt the Giants have a clowning first baseman who never fails to extract a few laughs from the crowd with his antics. "Red" Lindsay, shortstop of the team, promises to develop into one of the best colored players of recent years.

A meeting will be held during the latter part of the week by representatives of leading colored teams in the East in an effort to lay tentative plans for the organization of a colored loop next season. Washington, Philadelphia New York, Baltimore, Boston, Providence and Harrisburg are expected to be represented.

COMMERCE NINE BEATS REPAIR SHOP, WINS LEAGUE TITLE

Riley Pitches Club to 4-2 Victory

2,000 See Double by Povich, Fly by Lewis, Win Game in 5th.

Repair Shop Held to Six Hits; Wesley Allows 7.

A DOUBLE by Povich, who advanced to third on an infield out and scored on Jakie Lewis' long fly in the fifth inning, defeated D. C. Repair Shop and won the championship of the Departmental League for the Commerce team on the East Ellipse before a crowd of 2,000 fans yesterday. The final score of the game, which was called in the sixth inning because of darkness, was 4 to 2.

It was simply a case of too much Riley for the Repair Shop sluggers, who obtained but six hits off the sun-tanned Alexandrians. Freddy Noone was the only member of the losing team to connect safely more than once, and he laid the wood on two of Leon's tosses for bullet-like singles. Noone was the only man on either team credited with two hits, fitting testimony to the brand of hurling displayed by the opposing moundsmen.

Wesley, Repair Shop's starting pitcher, lasted until the sixth, when the winners employed a successful bunting attack to drive him from the mound, but the game was already in the bag when Lanahan took up the hurling burden.

Ritnour's Double Scores Noone.

Ritnour's double, which scored Noone in the first inning, and Wesley's Texas leaguer, scoring Hoffman in the second, accounted for the Repairmen's runs. Commerce matched these when Lewis scored in the first and Hessler crossed the plate in the second.

The deciding tally came in the fifth, when Povich opened the inning with a two-bagger to left center field, advanced to third on an infield out and scored on Lewis' long fly. Not content with its one-run lead, Commerce inaugurated its highly successful bunting attack in the sixth, Riley, Connors and Hessler filling the bases with none out. Lanahan, however, squeezed out of the situation with only one runner scoring.

By its victory, Commerce wins the right to compete in the week-day championship series, which probably will get under way the latter part of this month.

Fish Boats Dot Mobile Bay In Annual Deep-Sea Rodeo

DAUPHIN ISLAND, Ala., Aug. 17 (A. P.).—Through the choppy waters surrounding this island at the southern extremity of Mobile Bay, scores of men and women fisherfolk today pursued the silver tarpon, king of deep sea game fish in Alabama's third annual deep sea fishing rodeo.

Prizes have been offered for not only the largest tarpon to be caught during the three days of the rodeo, but for the largest gross catch. Consequently the fisherfolk utilized the last bit of daylight and as a result were late in returning to fishing headquarters here with reports on the day's catch.

While the tarpon was the objective of each of the many small boats that put out this morning, the fishers expected to land red and black fish, bonita, mackerel and other deep sea fighters.

The biggest award of many costly prizes offered by the Mobile rodeo committee and the Alabama State Game and Fish Department was to go for the champion tarpon catch, but there were other awards for record catches of other species of game in these waters.

Threatening clouds failed to hold the anglers back this morning at 5 o'clock and soon the choppy waters of Mobile Bay were dotted with craft, ranging in size from two-man dories to yachts capable of carrying ten or more fishermen.

A large share of the boats headed for Grant's Pass, where schools of tarpon had been reported.

No tarpons had been reported landed, but those who stayed behind hoped the returning boats would bring in many of the big fighters.

cose admirers. Rudy was beaten badly, in the final summation of things. It would not surprise us if little more of him was seen in this neighborhood. He has served his purpose; been worked into a hero only to find his dreams shattered on three successive occasions by the champion. I doubt if people will feel a sympathy for Rudy as much as an apathy.

So far there is no one on the horizon who could be slung in the ring with Londos and rout 15,000 fans out of their homes and into the Stadium. Nobody has been "coming up." Only two seem faintly capable of being built for a Londc match—George Zaharias and Jim McNamara. George is a great deal like Rudy used to be, and our suspicions have some grounds in the fact that he badly mauled one of Washington's favorites, Son Jennings, last week. "Mac" is the one truly local wrestler. It would not be surprising to see him go up in a hurry. There must be enough Georgetown alumni in town to make such a match a go, once whetted to the point where they wanted to see Nordic supremacy upheld.

In the meantime there probably will be more auditorium shows than ball park embroglios. It costs about $1,000 less to stage an indoor match. That, of course, is exclusive of talent.

This "building up" in wrestling must seem impossible to the lay mind, but let us consider that the grappler every one of the 15,000 local fans booed out of the ring last week. Kola Kwariani, is hailed in Baltimore and St. Louis as Londos only real rival in rassledom.

It doesn't seem likely that the building operations will commence with Friday night's show. Ray Steele, who meets Tiny Roebuck, doesn't need any building and Dick Shikat, who pals around with Jim Clinstock, is evidently being muscled out of the circuit. Nor does it seem likely that the Karl Pojelio-Mike Romano waltz will produce a "wonder."

Doc Wilson, whom the local fans appreciate greatly, will meet a yet-to-be-named mug, but the feeling persists that the Doctor is not in the class with the mat's postgraduates. At this writing it looks like the Chief White Feather-Tiger Nelson calumny, while it won't prove anything, should appeal most to the fans.

D. C. TYPOS WIN FROM ST. PAUL

Special to the Washington Post.

HAMILTON, Ont., Aug. 17.—A rally in the eighth inning netting two runs, broke an existing tie and enabled the Washington Typos to beat St. Paul, 5-3, here today in a first round game of the Union Printers baseball tournament.

St. Paul scored three markers in the first inning to take the lead, with Simons hurling for Washington, but thereafter, the Capital twirler settled down and the Twin Cities outfit was held scoreless the remainder of the contest.

Achterling Hurls Good Ball.

The Washington aggregation plays Indianapolis tomorrow while New York meets Pittsburgh; Cincinnati opposes Chicago; St. Paul faces Detroit; Hamilton battles Baltimore and St. Louis tackles Boston. Two defeats eliminate a team.

Pittsburgh defeated Baltimore, 11 to 6; New York defeated a combined Hamilton-Toronto team, 5-3; Indianapolis trounced Boston, 6-2; Cincinnati nosed out Detroit in eleven innings, and Chicago walloped St. Louis, 11-3.

Stringer, Capital Golfer, Leads in Typo Tourney

Hamilton, Ontario, Aug. 17.—Shooting good golf today over the difficult and new Dundas Valley Golf Club course here, G. F. Stringer, of Washington, with his 84 card, led the first day's play in the Union Printers' golf tourney, which attracted nearly 60 players.

Eddie Gabelman, youthful Cincinnati golfing star, was among the first to tee off in today's event and turned in an 85 card, having a 44 out and a 41 in, but the Cincinnati golfer held the lead only a short time until Stringer completed the tough 18 holes and presented his 84 total. The Washington player went out in 43, one less stroke than his rival, Gabelman, and finished the same as the latter in the last nine holes.

Claude Radabugh, defending champion of Detroit, was even with M. Deans, of Toronto, with cards of 88. J. W. Wray, Toledo, was next with 89. J. Bowl, of Washington, finished well with a 92.

Today's entry will be divided into two classes, the Union Printers' section and the Allied Crafts group for further competition. The play will be divided into various fights of 72 holes of medal play determining the sectional winners and these will then battle for the Union Printers and Allied Crafts championship of North America and the Walter Hagen and other trophies.

Clyde Smith, Morgan Jacob Win Playground Net Titles

CLYDE SMITH, of Bloomingdale, and Morgan ("Happy") Jacob, of Montrose, yesterday won the senior and junior singles championships of the District playgrounds by defeating their finals opponents on the Chavy Chase playground courts. Smith defeated Bob Smith, of Happy Hollow, 6—2, 5—7, 10—8 in a brilliant, hard-fought match which thrice saw him within one point of defeat. Jacob won as he pleased over Lavelle Dean, of Virginia Avenue Playgrounds, 6—1, 6—2.

All four players will be presented prizes by the District Playground Department at the track meet later this month. Clyde Smith and Jacob will receive trophies, while the runners-up will be awarded medals.

The battle between the two Smiths would be almost impossible to match, for sheer closeness and top-speed play. The Bloomingdale lad, who last year won the junior crown by beating Gilbert Hunt, was victorious by dint of a slashing forehand driving and net rushing attack, which he unloosed in the late moments of the third set when the issue hung perpetually in doubt.

Starting out in cocky and aggressive style, Clyde Smith took the first set without the trouble of removing his sweater. The defense of the dark-haired Happy Hollow netman was full of vulnerable spots, and his opponent's ripping drives penetrated them decisively.

Clyde continued his play in the second set, and went to 3—1 riding on the impetus of his first-set attack. But here his opponent's back court style of play became puncture proof. He began to retrieve every drive of Clyde's, no matter what the angle or speed. Only world-beating shots got by him, and Clyde found fewer and fewer of them in his yellow-throated racquet. Bob forged on to win, mostly on Clyde's errors, 5—7.

Continuing his steady play, Bob found himself boosted to 5—3 in his favor in the third set, as Smith's game became steadily demoralized and the highly strung Bloomingdale boy began to toss his racquet against the fence in high dudgeon. Then he began to take his anger out on the tennis ball with which they were playing. His shots began to ram down into the corners and before long he found the score evened at 5—5.

Bob Smith Gains Lead.

Bob Smith went out again to lead at 6—5 and 40—15, but each match point found Clyde Smith producing his finest play. Bob Smith led also, at 8—7, but Clyde's heftily hit shots began once more to prevail.

Jacob, who has done well in the big tournaments in Washington this year, had things all his own way with the chop-stroking boy from Virginia. Dean produced his best tennis at the start of the second set, at which time he held a 2-to-1 lead.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. W. A. EVANS

To the limit of space questions pertaining to hygiene and prevention of disease will be answered in this column. Personal replies will be made to inquiries, under proper limitations when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Dr. Evans will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual disease.

TOO MUCH SUNLIGHT.

SUNLIGHT is a powerful medicine. All such medicines are powerful for good if used when they are needed and if they are properly used. They are powerful for harm if used improperly.

In certain parts of the world there are people who avoid exposure to sunlight at all seasons of the year. Among them there is much rickets and tetany in childhood, and much osteomalacia in adult life. In this part of the world the people are disposed to get too little sunlight in winter and too much in summer. They suffer from famine for something like six months and they gorge to excess for several months, sunlight being the food with which they are overfed.

Thousands of them are engaged in acquiring a tan from which they will never completely recover. In some these tans will go on to a leathery condition, known by some as weather-beaten, while others will acquire horny patches, some of which will eventually develop into epitheliomas. However, the great majority will suffer no more than a loss of fineness of skin texture and delicateness of skin coloring.

Of those who are now engaged in making trouble for themselves some will become sensitized to light or heat. Of these some will acquire a kind of nettle rash due to light. Others will acquire headaches caused by exposure to light.

Kipling has written of a peculiar form of nervous on-edgeness which develops among people exposed to a combination of excessive light and heat. Light is essential to maturing. It causes seed to sprout and, after that, it causes growth of the plant, formation of its parts, flowering, and the formation of seed. In other words, it contributes to genesis, maturing, and sensecence. If the same principle be applied to the human plant it is fair to conclude that whatever promotes the growth of the child, the development of the adolescent, the maturing of the adult, also contributes to senescence and ultimate senility.

If this reasoning be correct, exposure to sunlight is good to promote the health of young people, but older ones who would ward off senility and the group of diseases that go with it should avoid excessive exposure to light. Just as an illustration: There is more cataract in India and Egypt than in all the world outside the regions of tropical glare.

RATHER COMMON DISORDER

M. writes: Is a blood clot in the left leg after childbirth very serious? The patient was in bed six weeks and at the start of the seventh was allowed to sit up in bed. The doctor advised two or more weeks in bed after this. Would it be dangerous for patient to get up now? What is the cause of this and will it leave any ill effects? Will it affect the walking in any way? The leg, although very swollen when the trouble started, is almost down to normal now. However, it still pains now and then.

REPLY

Milk-leg is a rather common disorder. It is supposed to be due to a mild infection in the blood or lymph stream, or both. As a rule, it does not endanger life. However, it is always an inconvenient and unpleasant complication and, occasionally, it is a dangerous one.

SYMPTOMS OF TUBERCULOSIS.

R. C. writes. What are the first symptoms of tuberculosis?

REPLY

Fatigability is about the earliest symptom. Loss of weight, pallor, slight fever, and a little cough are also early symptoms.

(Copyright, 1931.)

DEPOSIT OF COLORING.

G. F. R. writes: What is pigmentation of the skin?

REPLY.

Deposit of coloring matter in the skin. When there is no pigment in the skin living is very uncomfortable. The condition is called albinism.

Negroes have deeply pigmented skins. In Indians and Chinamen the pigment is of other shades.

ASHEIM-ZONDEK TEST.

P. S. writes: What are the first symptoms by which a woman can tell that a baby is to be born?

REPLY.

LOVELY SCHOOL WEAR.

The collar and cuffs are white pique. They may be made detachable so as to be readily laundered. The pert bow tie is grosgrain ribbon. The belt is suede.

It's fetching! It's a one-piece affair which makes it very easily made.

Style No. 806 is designed for smart juniors of 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. The 8-year-old size requires 2⅜ yards of 35-inch material with ½ yard of 35-inch contrasting.

It's a splendid type for school wear. Supple woolen in tiny checked pattern is smart with the fabric cut so as to show bias checks for the insets.

STOCKS RALLY DIES WITH LIGHT LOSSES

New York, Aug. 17 (A.P.).—The stock market got off to a bad start at the beginning of the new week today. Sponsors of the bull movement last week had expected they might encounter a little resistance this week, but had not counted on any such adverse psychological influence as the suspension of the large Toledo banks.

Several popular shares lost 2 to 5 points. Selling was fairly heavy for a time in the late morning, but the list turned dull thereafter, and recovered a little in the early afternoon. A fresh sag occurred in the last hour, and the general market finished around the day's lowest prices. Transfers aggregated 1,317,690 shares.

The leading commodities, influenced by stocks and foreign markets, were also depressed. Cotton lost about a dollar a bale. Wheat finished 1/8 to 7/8 of a cent a bushel lower, largely in sympathy with Liverpool. Sentiment on wheat is more cheerful in brokerage circles than it has been in some time, however. Despite the bumper crop in this country, world production is not expected to be excessive. The Canadian crop, in particular, has deteriorated seriously. Corn sagged 1/4 to 3/4 of a cent.

Bank Failure Effects.

While the suspension of the Toledo banks was not altogether surprising to well informed Wall street banking circles, where the situation had been known for some time, and where delay in effecting the projected merger of the three institutions had been viewed as rather ominous, it was obvious that the bull pilots of the stock market had laid their plans without taking the situation into consideration. While the only real repercussion here was psychological, the effect was bad enough to discourage bulls from making further efforts. With professional support withdrawn, the market flopped back heavily.

The loss as measured by the average for 90 shares amounted to 3 points, or nearly half the gain for last week of roughly 7 points. It was the most severe break since July 29, when the average lost 3½ points in response to the reduction of United States Steel's annual dividend basis to $4 from $7.

Business and industrial news remained rather meager. The closing of the east Texas pool pending the making effective of new Texas oil conservation law strengthened the belief in petroleum circles that the industry is negotiating a turn for the better, but oil stocks were unable to advance against the general downward trend, and both crude and refined prices still have a long way to go to put the industry on its feet again.

Sales Volume Drops.

Sears, Roebuck & Co. reported sales for the four weeks ended August 13 off 6 1-5 per cent in dollar volume from the like period of last year, which indicates a substantial increase in the actual material volume in view of the drastic price cuts. During the four weeks ended July 16, the decline from last year was only 1 per cent.

Among conspicuously weak groups in the stock market were the Chemical news that the Chilean nitrate combine has cut prices since the collapse of the European sales cartel adversely affected Allied Chemical, a maker of synthetic nitrates. The stock lost 5 points net, after getting down 6 points. Electric Autolite dropped more than 4 points on news of the Toledo bank closing, but reduced its net loss to 3¾, when it was learned that it had very little money in the suspended institutions. Willys Overland, also a Toledo stock, sagged only ¼ of a point to a price of 3¾. That company also made a similar announcement.

Among miscellaneous issues losing about 3 to 5 points were U. S. Steel, American Can, American Telephone, Case, Eastman, General Railway Signal, New York Central, Westinghouse, and Union Pacific. Losses of a point or two were numerous. Such issues as General Motors, Chrysler, General Electric, and Radio lost about a point each.

Foreign exchanges were generally steady to firm. Sterling cables were ⅛ higher at $4.85 7/8, and the German mark, was quoted 1-10 of a cent higher at 23.75 cents.

BOND PRICES LOWER ON IRREGULAR SALES

Utility and Industrial Issues Are Less Active; Rails Continue Losses.

New York, Aug. 17 (A.P.).—The bond market declined irregularly today, although it had a tendency to advance in the early trading. The average closing price of 30 representative corporate bonds was 93.1, a net loss of two-tenths of a point for the day.

The average of ten railroad issues was six-tenths of a point lower at 94.5, the equivalent of the low record reached last Thursday. A long list of railroad bonds, which were the most active of the domestic issues, reached new low record prices and a still greater number closed lower for the day. Among the former group were: Boston & Maine 5s of 1967, Baltimore & Ohio 4½s of 1960, New York Central new 4½s of 2013, Erie Series B 4s of 1953, Great Northern Series D 4½s, and Southern General 4s. Railroad shares were among the heaviest losers in the stock market.

Foreign obligations were highly irregular. Many of the sharpest fluctuations occurred in this group. Argentina and Chilean loans were both active. The former eased off but the latter gained ground. German and Brazilian loans provided a large turnover but the changes among them were about equally divided between gains and declines. The action of the bonds of these four countries were no more mixed than the changes in the foreign group as a whole.

Public utility and industrial loans were less active than either the rail or foreign obligations and the downward trend among them was less marked. Columbia Gas & Electric 5s of January 1961, Consolidated Gas of New York 4½s, the New Delaware Power & Light 4½s of 1971, Detroit Edison Collateral 5s, International Telephone 4½s of 1939 and New England Telephone 4½s of 1961 were among the public utility issues to close lower.

Texas Corporation 5s, Warner Brothers Pictures 6s, Skelly Oil 5½s, International Match 5s of 1941 and of 1947, General Theaters Equipment 6s and Porto Rican American Tobacco 6s were active industrial loans to close lower.

Activity in loans of the United States Government increased moderately as they closed firm.

FAMOUS SEER
THE MAN WHO KNOWS

This strange man sees the way and tells it all. Just what your life has been, just what it will be. Tells you when and whom you will marry; whether husband, wife or sweetheart is true or false. Tells as to changes, travel, lost or absent friends, divorce, wills, deeds, whether it is best to buy or sell. He tells the good and the bad. A visit will convince you of his wonderful power. Tells you exactly what you wish to know. Something tells you this is the man. You feel the impulse to call. Don't delay. DAILY, 10-8 P. M. SUNDAY, 10-3 P. M. (Copyrighted, 1931.)

POSTMAN ARRESTED FOR QUESTIONING IN SLAYING OF CASHIER

NO CHARGE YET FILED AGAINST U. S. EMPLOYE

Ralph E. Aiken, 31 years old, a District letter carrier, was arrested last night in connection with the murder of Mrs. Lizzie Jaynes, Garden T Shoppe cashier, during a hold-up of the shop at 1835 Columbia road on April 3.

Aiken was taken into custody by homicide detectives at his home, 3601 Bunker Hill road, Mount Rainier, Md. He is booked on an open charge at police headquarters.

Arrest Held Important.

The arrest of Aiken followed an interrogation of Thomas Jordan, 28 years old, who was apprehended in Atlantic City last Thursday by Detective Sergt. Robert Barrett.

According to police, Aiken is known to Mrs. Edith M. Dodsworth, who is held at the House of Detention.

With Men in Automobile.

She, police said, told William Harper Dean that she was with Jordan and another man in an automobile about the time of the Jaynes killing, when one of the men is reputed to have said that he wanted "some quick money."

Mrs. Dodsworth, according to police, said that the remark was made in a jocular manner. Her arrest followed an interrogation of Dean, who lives at 2057 Park road northwest, and in turn, Jordan and Aiken were taken into custody.

Capital Teacher Injured As Automobile Upsets

Miss Anna M. Conklin, of 1617 R street northwest, a teacher at the Washington School for Secretaries, was injured yesterday near Frederick, Md., when the automobile she was driving overturned while passing another on the National pike.

Miss Conklin was on her way to Frederick, after visiting at the home of a friend at Braddock Heights. She was treated at Frederick Hospital, where it was found that she had sustained a severe laceration of the scalp and shock. She left the hospital after treatment, remaining at the home of friends in that town. She was spending her vacation at Braddock Heights.

LIQUOR AND GAMING ARE HIT BY HOLMES

Police on duty at the First Precinct station yesterday morning heard a "pep" talk from Capt. William E. Holmes as that official faced them for the first time upon returning to duty, refreshed from a short vacation.

The captain's thesis was the necessity for keeping the precinct clear of gambling and bootlegging and in that spotless state of purity believed by police officials to have been the result of the new historical drive by the "four horsemen" and others on "racketeers."

"Gambling and bootlegging in the precinct must stop, and you are the men to stop it," he told his command. "Incessant vigilance and honest courage will drive these people out of the District."

Should Round Up Offenders.

"It is up to you to round up these people who are disgracing the city and throw them into jail, where they belong. I am determined there shall be no gambling in my precinct."

The talk, Capt. Holmes said, was a mere routine matter. He often talked to them about matters needing their attention and methods of procedure at roll calls, he explained.

Apparently there has been no return of gamblers to the First Precinct, according to Capt. Holmes. When he returned from his vacation, he declared, he received several reports that places had been opened at certain addresses in the territory, but investigation at these places proved the reports to be false, he said.

"There was one place evidently preparing to open on B street," Capt. Holmes said. "My men went there today and found that buzzers had been installed on heavy doors, but they found no one at the place. They returned several times without results.

Will Prevent Opening.

"Naturally, we will see to it that this place never opens up. We will get in touch with the man who intends to operate the place and see to it that his plans are never completed.

"I suppose there will always be a small amount of gambling and bootlegging. It seems almost impossible to stop it all, but we shall make certain that there is a minimum of it in our territory."

Patrolmen of the precinct were directed to cooperate in every way with the vice squads operating in the First Precinct and inform them of all suspicious places

Melon Boats Are Here; Crowds Visit and Buy

Tons of watermelons, heaped high on the decks of more than a score of sailboats, arrived yesterday at the Municipal Wharf after a long, slow trip up the river from the Eastern Shore.

Hundreds of persons last night milled about among the boats, docked at the wharf four and five deep, as the melons were placed on sale. Competition was keen, and bedlam reigned for several hours as each dealer shouted vociferously the qualities of his cargo. The melons went like the proverbial "hot cakes."

Americanization Quiz Will Be Given Today

Under direction of Mrs. C. T. Willison, United States naturalization examiner, examination for the September court hearing will be given today at the Americanization School. She will be assisted by Mrs. G. M. S. McClintock and Miss Vera Parker, citizenship teachers. The school will close its summer session Friday.

It was announced yesterday the Americanization School Association will cooperate with the Community Center Department in the lantern festival Friday night in the Sylvan Theater, Monument Grounds.

Supreme Court Clerk Asked Large Question

One of those questions that are forever cropping up to make life miserable for the clerks of the District Supreme court arose yesterday when M. Peroni, who wrote from a Boston, Mass., address, inquired whether or not "Russell Roy Hemphill" had ever been married in the United States.

The records here were searched to no avail, and so far as this jurisdiction is concerned Mr. Hemphill has never taken unto himself a spouse.

The matter was left at rest there and the inquirer will have to address letters to each of the 48 State governments if he desires to know without fail the answer to his question.

Eucharist Badges Here From Dublin

Pilgrimage to Congress in Ireland to Include Visit to Rome.

Washington interest in the International Eucharistic Congress in Dublin next June was heightened yesterday when first official badges of the congress were received by Miss Amelia Rosser, who has been designated as secretary of a pilgrimage committee which will conduct a tour of 100 Washingtonians leaving here next May.

The party, which will be the first to leave the District of Columbia to attend the Congress, will visit France, Italy, Switzerland, Germany, Belgium and England prior to going to Dublin. Visits will be made to the Catholic shrines of Lourdes and Lisieux and there will be a special audience with His Holiness, Pope Pius XI.

100 Babies Are Entered In Grotto Fete Contest

More than 100 Washington babies between the ages of 6 months and 5 years entered the Kallipolis Grotto Fall Festival best baby contest at headquarters, 1417 G street northwest, in the first week of the contest, according to Monarch Carlton F. Howell, chairman of the executive committee.

Entrants are examined under rules of the American Medical Association by competent physicians and registration and care of a trained nurse are free. The fall festival, when the babies will be exhibited to the public, will be held at Washington Auditorium October 2.

Capt. Norton Will Head Cadets at McKinley High

Coming to Washington from Kansas City, Mo., where for a number of years he has been in command of the high school cadets, Capt. Robert W. Norton, retired Army officer, has been named to succeed Col. Alexander W. Maish as head of the cadets at McKinley High School, it was announced yesterday by the War Department.

Col. Maish, who makes his home at 4355 Klingle road northwest, has been in ill health for some time and at present is confined to Walter Reed Hospital. He has been an assistant professor of military science and tactics here since 1929.

Driver Held After Child Is Hit.

Leroy Smith, 4, colored, was seriously injured yesterday when struck by an automobile as he ran into the street in front of his home at 9 D street southeast. The child was treated at Casualty Hospital for a possible skull fracture, broken leg and lacerations. Police reported that Edward E. Thomas, 22, 18 Third street southeast, was operating the car. He was charged with driving with defective hand brakes.

WARDMAN GUESTS AID DIGGS DEFENSE

That several socially prominent residents of the Wardman Park Hotel are planning to lend assistance to the defense of Joseph H. Diggs, colored doorman at the hotel, who shot Capt. W. Frank Norman to death last Wednesday, and to raise funds for the employment of counsel should it be necessary was learned last night by The Post.

It is also understood that a lawyer has already been approached on the subject of taking Diggs' defense but as yet no definite action has been taken.

At least one man will testify before the grand jury that Capt. Norman struck Diggs when approached in the lobby with a request that he instruct his chauffeur, Enoch Craig, to park his car at a location on the driveway that would not congest traffic. Craig had previously refused to move the car, saying that he took orders only from Capt. Norman.

James A. O'Shea, locally prominent lawyer, has been retained by Diggs' father and sister and is at present in charge of the case. When reached at his home last night he said: "Although I was invited some time ago to call on the people at the Wardman interested in the case, I have not yet had an opportunity to do so. I was retained by the boy's family the day of the shooting, and, of course, the participation of any other lawyer must necessarily be with my permission. I understand, however, that certain of the people at the hotel are planning to lend every aid to the defense at the trial."

Summonses for appearance before the grand jury next Friday were served on the manager of the hotel, bellboys and other witnesses last night.

DATA HOPED TO PROVE HELP IN GOVERNMENT

Classification of Any Area of District Will Be Given in Detail.

Plain, unromantic figures have been enlisted by Maj. Henry G. Pratt, superintendent, to aid the District Police Department in its fight against crime in Washington.

Capt. L. I. H. Edwards has been placed in charge of the new statistical bureau of the Police Department and the program he has mapped out will, it is expected, give the District department the most detailed and complete study of crime conducted by any police department or law enforcement agency in the country.

Mere knowledge of the number of murders or robberies or other felonies committed in the District would not give any very great aid to the department in its work or to the government of the District as a whole and such figures are merely the beginning of the new study.

Neighborhoods Are Analyzed.

Under compilations directed by Capt. Edwards it will be possible to keep a constant check on the number and kinds of crimes committed in any area in the city, the color and sex of persons commiting crimes, their age, and various other details.

Capt. Edwards has divided each police precinct into small areas of a few blocks and day-by-day reports from the precincts are analyzed to show just what trouble occurred in any given neighborhood.

These figures are carried forward from day to day in the records of the statistical bureau and remove from the field of guess work or fallible recollection just what are the crime conditions in every neighborhood.

Crime Details Classified.

Not only the place where every crime is committed is noted but the hour of the day or night is noted, too, along with many other details.

In the record of housebreaking, for example, the statistics will show how entry was gained to the house.

Occasional compilations of such facts probably would not mean very much in the fight of the police against crime, but Maj. Pratt and Capt. Edwards believe that continued study of these figures will prove of material aid.

Detachment of Marines Reports at Camp Perry

A detachment of 175 Marines under the command of Capts. Shannon and Lewis reached Camp Perry, Ohio, yesterday from the Marine base at Quantico, for service at the National Rifle Matches which open at Camp Perry soon.

The Marine Rifle Team has been at Camp Perry for some time practicing for the matches, and this detail was sent to care for general work in connection with the contest.

Boy Missing Since Saturday.

Mrs. Mary Graham, 69 New York avenue northeast, reported to police yesterday that her son, Robert, 14, has been missing since 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The youth is 5 feet tall, has light hair and complexion, and was wearing brown trousers and white shirt.

Policeman Fractures Legs in Window Leap

Both legs of Private John A. Voss, Traffic Bureau policeman, were broken yesterday when, injecting the "get your man at all costs" spirit into pursuit of an escaping colored prisoner, he dived through a first floor window at police headquarters. He landed a dozen feet below in a concrete areaway.

The policeman's legs are believed to have struck an iron balustrade bordering the areaway.

The fleeing prisoner, Warren Dixon, 23, Spartanburg, S. C., had been taken into custody by Voss at the Franklin National Bank, Tenth and D streets northwest, after allegedly snatching $265 in currency from a bank customer as he made out a deposit slip.

The customer, Lewis R. Meredith, 1432 Harvard street northwest, said the colored man grabbed the money and fled. Meredith and others pursued the man and Voss joined the chase, capturing Dixon near Eleventh and F streets northwest and taking the roll of bills from him.

While Dixon was being booked at the Traffic Bureau a brother officer of Voss suggested that the man be handcuffed. Voss waved aside the suggestion, and the break for freedom followed a moment later.

Voss' desperate attempt to retrieve his prisoner resulted in the dive from the window and the injuries for which he is being treated at Emergency Hospital.

SALE OF SHOREHAM HOTEL IS SOUGHT

Court Asked to Grant Step in $534,127 Payment of Mechanics' Liens.

The sale of the Shoreham Hotel property, 2500 Calvert street northwest, was asked of the District Supreme Court yesterday if such a step was regarded by the court as necessary to obtain payment of mechanics' liens totaling some $534,127.81.

The suit was brought by the Thomas Somerville Co., 312 Thirteenth street northwest, on behalf of itself and 77 others who hold alleged liens against the property. The Somerville claim is for $41,235.11 and is for plumbing supplies and work done on the building.

The court was asked to declare the liens prior in existence to all encumbrances dated after July 15, 1929, for a deed of trust of $1,650,000 was placed on the property April 22, 1930, by the Shoreham Hotel Corporation.

Attorneys Paul V. Rogers and William E. Furey, for the Somerville company, named the lien holders as defendants also, thus making a total of some 85 defendants. Among those named as defendants were the Shoreham Hotel Corporation, Harry M. Bralove, John J. McInerney, Edward C. Ernst, the Bralove Construction Co., the receivers of the Shoreham Hotel, officials of Swartzell, Rheem & Hensey, the committee of bondholders of the hotel, and the trustees in bankruptcy of the Swartzell firm.

Six Washingtonians Given Rewards for Records in Military Camps.

Following a review of their records while attending Citizens' Military Training Camps this summer, six Washington youths have been awarded scholarships to various schools in and near the District.

The awards were made on the basis of character, leadership, general excellence in military subjects, evidence of good citizenship and ability to meet the various school requirements.

Winners of the scholarships are as follows: William M. Arehart, 1623 Connecticut avenue northwest, to George Washington University; Thomas D. Featherston, 1735 New Hampshire avenue northwest, to Temple School; Lamar Williams, 1758 Q street northwest, to Loomis Radio College; Richard H. Holmes, 1628 K street northwest, to Western Maryland College; Mark D. Woodward, 1821 Kilbourne place northwest, to William and Mary College and Walter R. Ward, 2920 Ontario road northwest, to Danville Military College.

Chicken Coop Invader Sentenced to 90 Days

Because he invaded a chicken coop with an ulterior motive in mind, Lee Edward Anderson, 38 years old, was sentenced to serve 90 days in jail when he was arraigned before Judge R. E. Mattingly in Police Court yesterday.

Police claimed the man had entered a henhouse belonging to William H. Allor, at Eighteenth street and Minnesota avenue southeast several days ago.

Newspaper Thief Jailed; Drew Knife on Pursuer

Judge R. E. Mattingly in Police Court yesterday sentenced Percival Rhine to 30 days in jail on a charge of stealing six copies of a New York Sunday newspaper from a dealer, who bested him in an ensuing chase.

The judge also gave Rhine an additional 30 days on a charge of assaulting the newsdealer, who was threatened with a knife when he caught Rhine and held him until police arrived

4 GOLD STAR WOMEN DEPART FOR FRANCE

Three Mothers and a Widow Leave City to Join 114 Aboard Steamer.

Three Gold Star mothers and a Gold Star widow, the last of the party of District mothers and widows of World War soldiers, will steam out of New York harbor tomorrow for foreign battle fields. They left Washington yesterday morning.

They were Mrs. Nora Wainright, 1419 Columbia road; Mrs. Joanna G. Hynson, 1272 Oates street northeast; Mrs. R. P. Quesenberry, Woodward Apartments, and Mrs. William O. Quesenberry, 1232 E street southeast, widow of a soldier.

They will join in New York a group of 114 Gold Star mothers, the last of 1,766 to visit graves in France this year at the expense of Uncle Sam. They will return to the United States September 19.

Although the pilgrimages this year have generally been more successful in every way than those of last year, the number sent broad by the Government has been much fewer.

In 1930 the United States sent 3,653 women to France under the act of Congress which provides this trip for any mother whose World War soldier son died and is buried there, but last year five of those who made the journey fell ill and died. Not a death has been reported in 1931 to date. Illness decreased proportionately.

Assault on Policeman Costs Boat Rider $20

A fine of $20 was imposed upon Paul Henri, of 800 Eighteenth street northwest yesterday, when he was convicted of assaulting Policeman Murrell Raspberry, of the Park Police.

Testimony in court indicated that Henri and a friend severed the bonds that tied a boat from its moorings in the Tidal Basin and took an impromptu trip. When they returned the other man hied himself to other parts, but the Policeman nabbed Henri, who argued so strenuously he was arrested and charged with assault.

Madame Ash Dies; Verdict Is Suicide

Note Indicates Ill Health Cause; Husband Finds Gas Jets Open.

Mrs. Julia Davey, known to many Washingtonians as Mme. Ash, owner of an exclusive millinery shop at Connecticut avenue and M street, was found dead yesterday morning by her husband in the kitchen of her home at 1870 Wyoming avenue.

A certificate of suicide was issued by Deputy Coroner Rogers when it was found that four jets of a gas stove had been opened.

Dr. Rogers, who is personal physician to the Daveys, said that a note addressed to Mr. Davey by the dead woman indicated that ill health was the cause. Mr. Davey retired late Sunday night, and at the time Mrs. Davey was reading in the living room. He discovered her body shortly before 7 o'clock yesterday morning. Dr. Rogers said that Mrs. Davey had been suffering with a bronchial ailment.

Hearing Set for Pair Charged With Arson

Hearings will be held in Marlboro on August 20 for Alton Parker and Ralph F. Kleppert, both of Berwyn, Md., on charges or arson. Judge Horace Taylor will weigh the accusation that the pair are responsible for the fire which damaged a vacant house belonging to William Har, of Branchville.

SHOW OWNERS ASK COURT TO BROADEN INJUNCTION SCOPE

JUDGE LETTS REFUSES AN IMMEDIATE RULING

Continues Hearing to Today, Intimidation of Laborers Is Charged.

Thwarted in every move to ship the stranded circus to winter quarters, owners of the 101 Ranch Wild West Show again went to the courts yesterday, this time with a request that unpaid employes be ruled off the circus lot.

The plea, made by Attorney Harry S. Barger, before District Supreme Court Justice F. Dickinson Letts, asked an "enlargement" of the injunction granted Saturday by Judge Cox, who is now on vacation. Although an immediate ruling was asked, Judge Letts continued the case until 1:30 today.

The fourteenth day of the impasse between employes, back eight weeks in their pay, and counsel for owners passed without further efforts to load the circus. Flat cars that had been "spotted" for loading were moved back on the siding yesterday.

Intimidation Charged.

Mr. Barger's court petition followed ineffectual attempts both Saturday and Sunday to get the show under way. Workmen brought here from Baltimore Sunday went back without turning a hand. Mr. Barger told Justice Letts they were "intimidated" by employes. He asked that hands be kept away from all circus property and away from the flat cars, until the show is loaded.

If the "enlargement" is granted, deputy United States marshals would be sent to the lot to "order" the men off the grounds.

Employes encamped at the circus lot yesterday were resentful of the Barger petition. They denied they had "intimidated" or in any way interfered with laborers brought to the field to move the circus.

A unique legal situation developed when it was disclosed that H. L. McCormick, one of the counsel for the employes, is also the secretary for Judge Letts. All of the other District Supreme Court Justices are now on vacation, and it began to appear although Mr. McCormick would have to withdraw from the court phase of the defense. Court practice would not permit him to argue the case before Judge Letts.

Employes and Animals Fed.

Mr. McCormick said last night that Norman B. Landreau, who has been associated with him in representing the employes, will go to court today to oppose amendment of the original injunction. Mr. McCormick has already appealed the Cox ruling, but it will not come up until the October court term.

Mr. Landreau said last night he would file an answer to the Barger petition this morning, denying all of its allegations. He said he will present affidavits in court at 1:30 to the effect that no attempt was made on the part of showmen to intimidate laborers hired to move the show to leave the grounds.

The petition filed by Mr. Barger yesterday was supported by affidavits sworn by Mr. Barger, W. C. Balderston, J. G. Kitchens, former assistant to the manager of the show, and Mr. Hunt.

Meanwhile both employes and stock quartered at the grounds are well supplied with food. Edward Kelly, of the American Legion Committee charged with buying food for the showmen, said funds collected a Saturday night's benefit will buy food for two weeks. Additional funds are coming in through the mails, he said.

Harry Hunt, associated with Fred Olmstead and the management in their fight to move the circus, announced that 6,500 pounds of hay, 400 pounds of bran and 30 bushels of oats were lert at the grounds Sunday afternoon for the horses, elephants, buffalo and steers. An officer of the Humane Society accompanied him when he made the purchase, Mr. Hunt said.

So much has the food situation improved at the lot that Mitt Carroll, circus steward, announced that bacon and eggs would be served this morning. Liver and bacon were on yesterday's dinner menu.

Auto Hurls Victim In Trolley's Path

Colored Man Has Narrow Escape; Unconscious After Accident.

Benjamin Gross, 45, colored, narrowly escaped death under wheels of a street car last night after he was struck and hurled, unconscious, to the tracks by an auto which failed to stop. The accident occurred at South Capitol and B streets southeast.

M. T. Dove, motorman of the Capital Traction Co. car which approached the intersection a few moments after the pedestrian was struck, had to throw the car into reverse in order to stop before reaching the collapsed form.

Gross was rushed to Casualty Hospital in a taxicab and treated for lacerations of the scalp and leg bruises. His condition was undetermined.

THE ONCE OVER

By H. I. PHILLIPS

TOUGH BREAKS ABROAD.

FROM Spain comes the complaint that the latest victim of world depression is the bull fighting industry. Bull fights are reported a good short sale anywhere, matadors have hit a new low for the movement, and the toreador number from "Carmen" is being offered with no bids.

• • • •

A Spaniard with a bull ring on his hands is almost as badly off as an American farmer with plenty of wheat. In fact, the customers have become as coldly indifferent toward bull fights as the Spanish bulls.

• • • •

The bulls haven't taken much interest in those Spanish fights for a number of years now, but it is a great blow to Spanish pride when the patrons also grow lackadaisical.

• • • •

Toreadors are reported selling apples on the streets of Barcelona and things are so desperate that it is feared even the bulls may have to be supported by a "dole" this winter.

• • • •

From Scotland, too, comes news of a startling depression. The grouse shooting business is in a hole. Famous Scottish "shoots," always full of millionaire sportsmen this time of year, are as vacant as Tom Thumb golf courses in America.

• • • •

AMERICAN millionaires have for years been the backbone of the grouse shooting industry, but this year many of them would go to Scotland only on condition that they could take the place of the grouse.

• • • •

In 1929 Scotland was full of American millionaires, all dressed up for grouse shooting and complaining that the birds were hard to hit with a full quart bottle.

• • • •

Anybody who wanted to locate a rich American had to go abroad and look for grouse. Once he found where the grouse were, all he had to do was sit down and wait for a couple of birds to pass. Immediately in their wake would come various flocks of merchant chiefs and big market operators, cocktail shaker in one hand and shotgun in the other.

• • • •

The grouse always welcomed the visit by American millionaires. It was the one time of the year when they felt safe from harm.

In the boom years no millionaire's life was complete until he had leased a shooting box in Scotland. Whether or not he got any grouse, his presence there gave a certain distinction back home.

BUT since the stock market crash of 1929 things have been different. One of the first things to leave the millionaire was his interest in Scottish bird life.

Even sparrow shooting at home would seem a rank extravagance under present conditions. But it's a bad break for the Scotch. All they can do is sit tight. But to a Scotchman that should be easy.

The ones that give me pain
Are those that picture monuments

Autumn Seeding Is Begun Throughout Capital Parks

The fall seeding program of the Bureau of Public Buildings and Parks was started yesterday. All of the innumerable parks, circles and squares in the metropolitan area will be reseeded in addition to certain pieces of ground on the outskirts of the downtown section in special need of attention.

Seventy-five hundred pounds of Red Rescue seed and 3,500 pounds of Kentucky Blue Grass has been received in addition to 500 pounds of Special Orchard grass to be used on the polo grounds.

Four hundred laborers are employed to do the work and to prepare the grounds for the spring seeding, at which time more than 12,000 pounds of seed will be distributed throughout the District.

A staff of fifteen tree surgeons is working on trees throughout the city, parts of which have rotted.

Bystander Saves Evidence As Policeman Loses Chase

"I'm an old policeman myself and I know what you're up against, so I saved this for you."

With this remark, an elderly man confronted Detective W. C. Grooms yesterday at Seventh and H streets northwest and handed him a fragment of a half gallon jar which contained several drops of liquor.

The detective, perspiring and breathless, had just lost a furious foot chase and was returning to the corner to confiscate an auto, abandoned by the quarry.

Suspicious of the driver's actions, Grooms had followed the car for several blocks until it reached that corner. There a man leaped out of the car, dashed a half-gallon jar to the pavement and ran. After four blocks Grooms was forced to give up.
